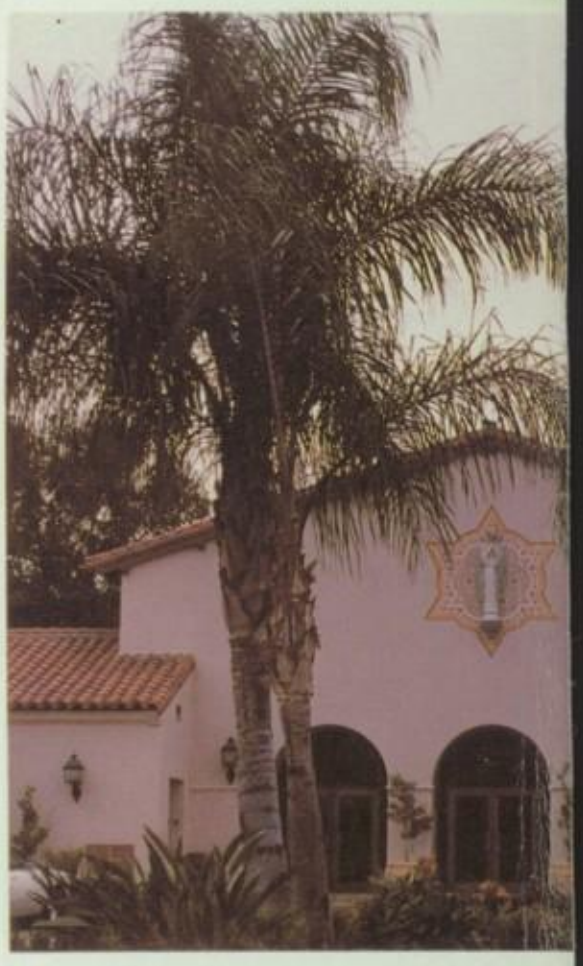
Wherever The Sun Sets, The Journey Rises



The sunset, a small requiem of our life's experience, sets off the tone of a new beginning in our journey. Each day brings with it the anticipation of a new journey in the light of a new sunset. With the sun's mellowing rays at dusk, the seminarian takes up the challenge to follow Jesus Christ. Success is not always the seminarian's discovery, but hoping and believing slowly turns dreams into realities. Prayers and the sacraments are important "maps" along our journey of life and help us to plan and reach our destiny without getting lost. We seminarians know the plans we have set for ourselves and apply the extra effort to fulfill these plans. In a sunset of diversity, seminarians learn that the sun's setting was only the beginning of a new journey rising.

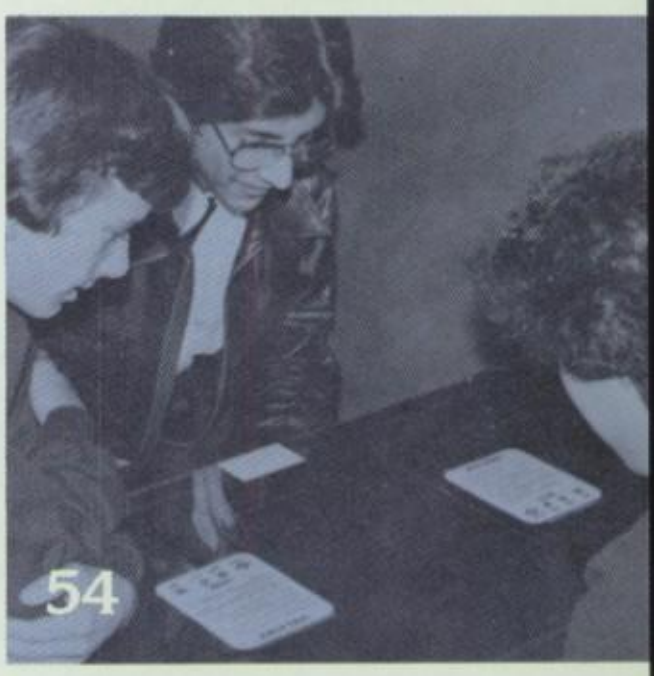
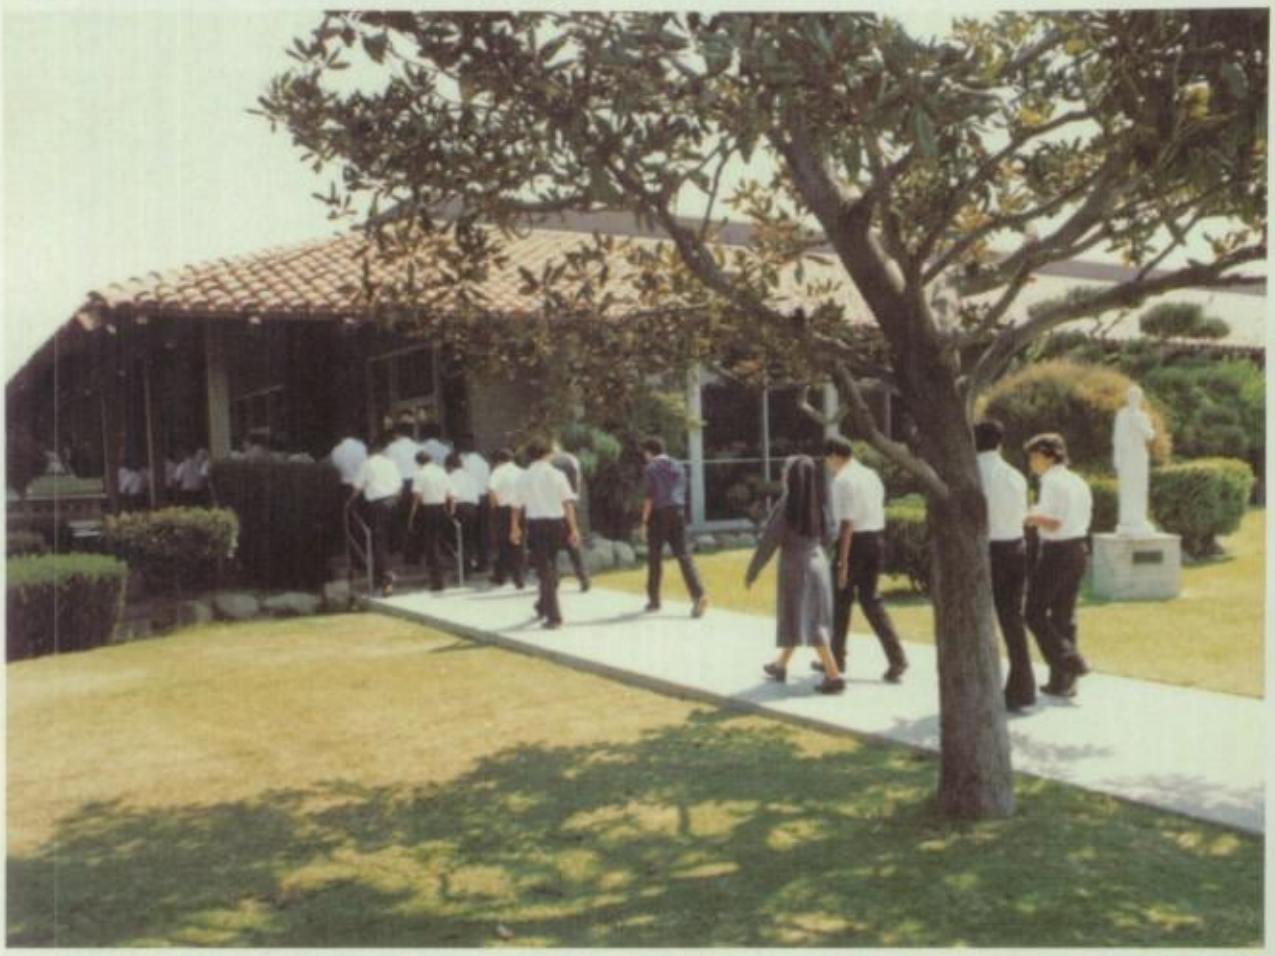
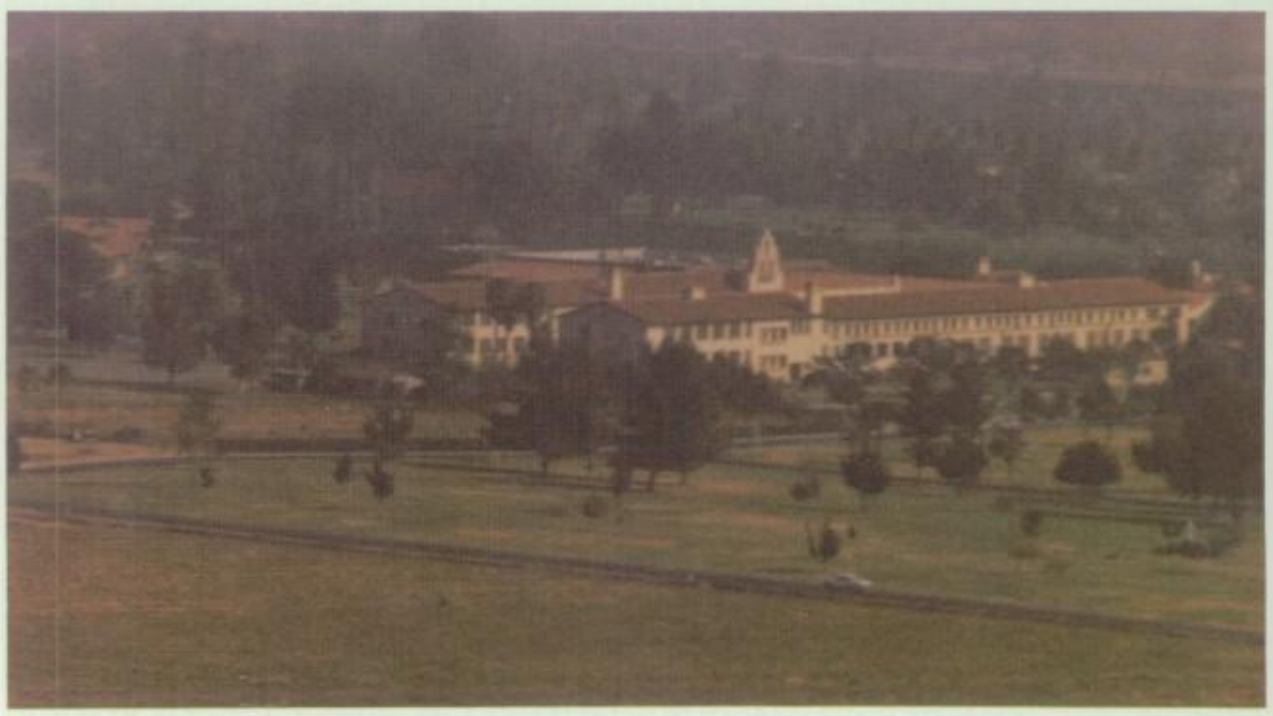
ACTIVITIES

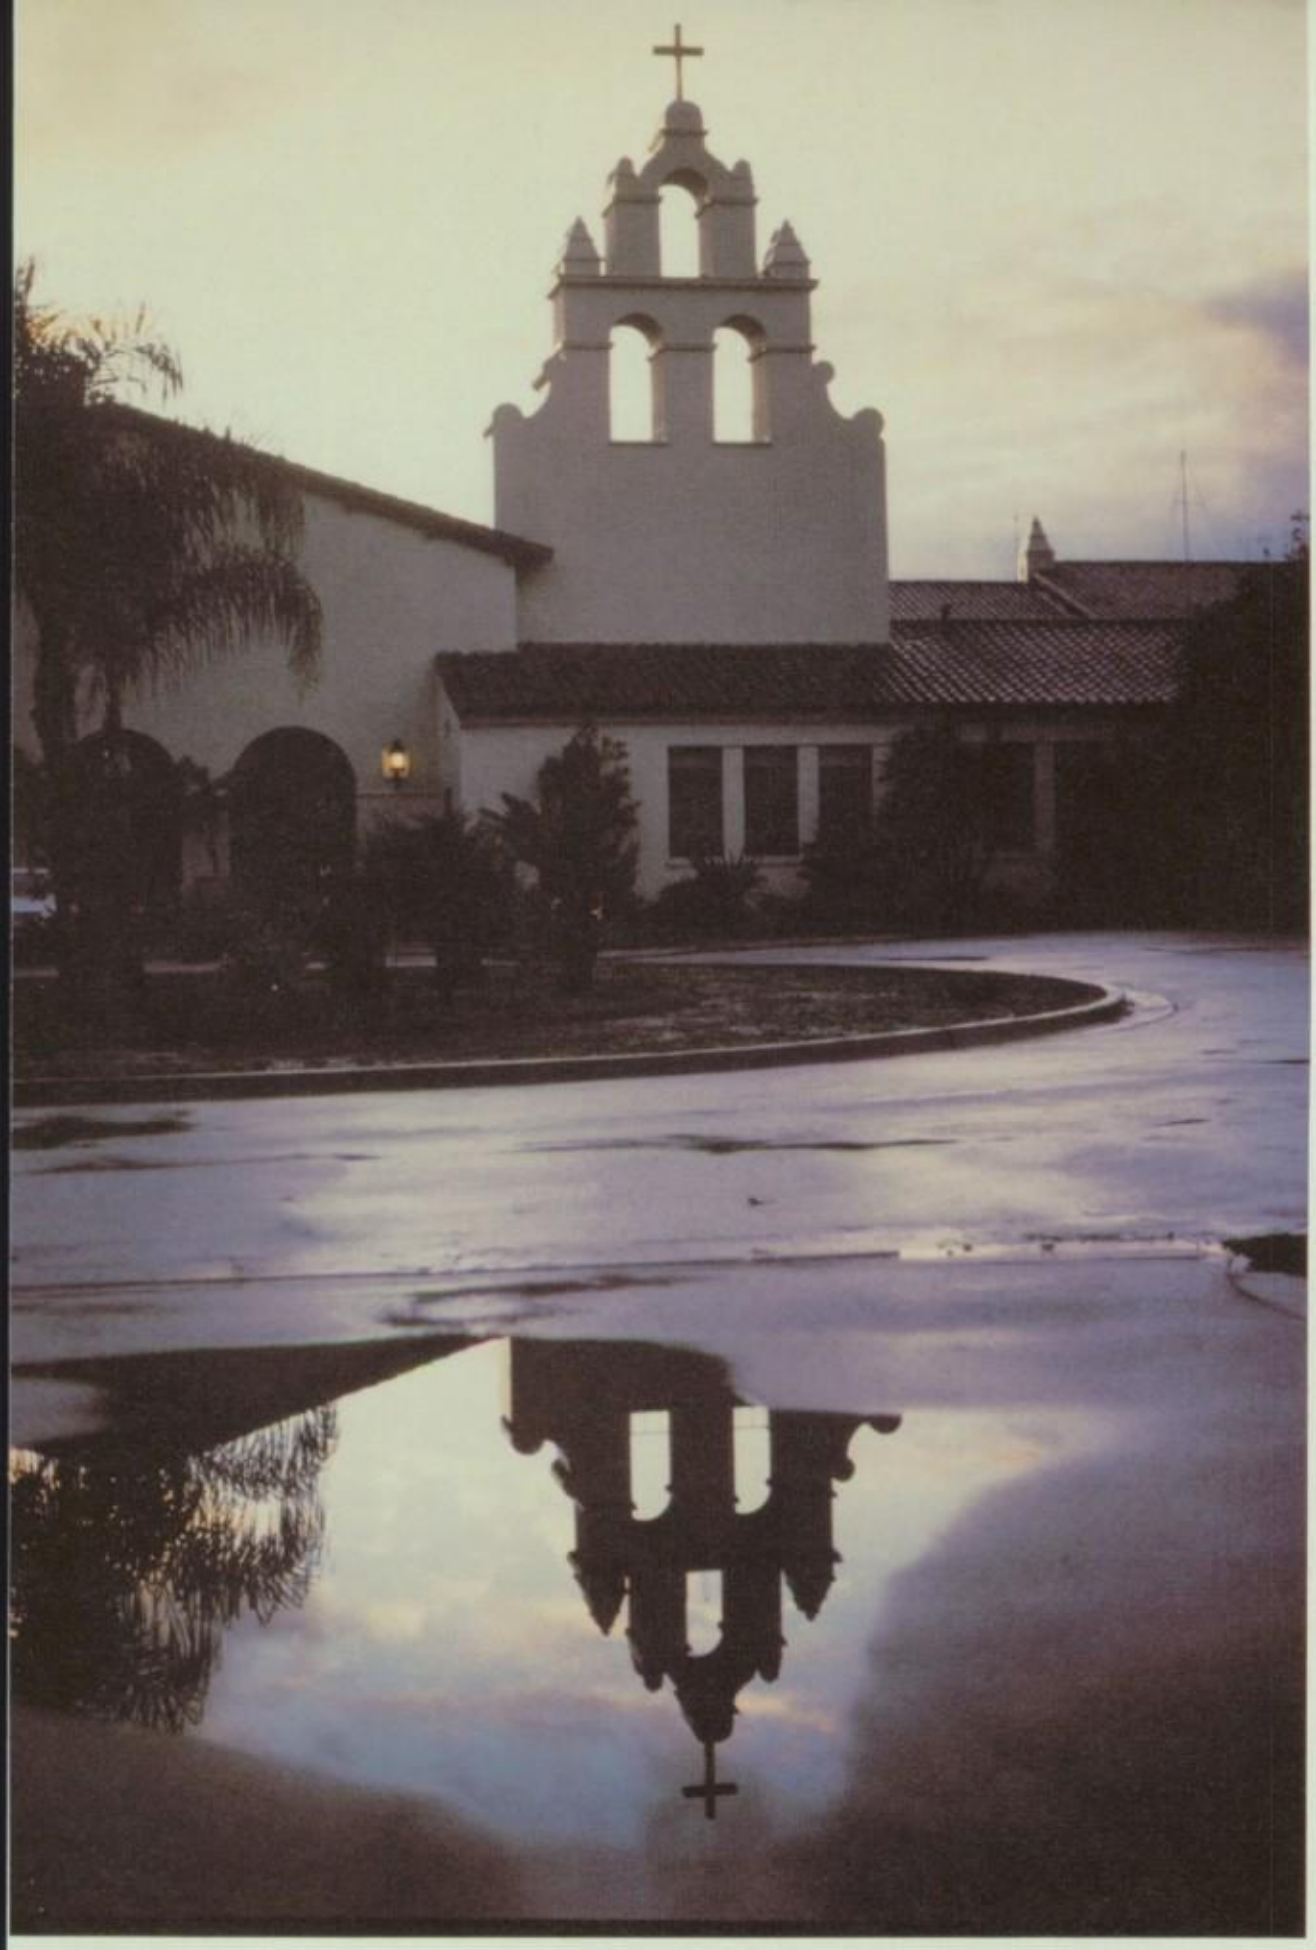
The pleasure principle 104

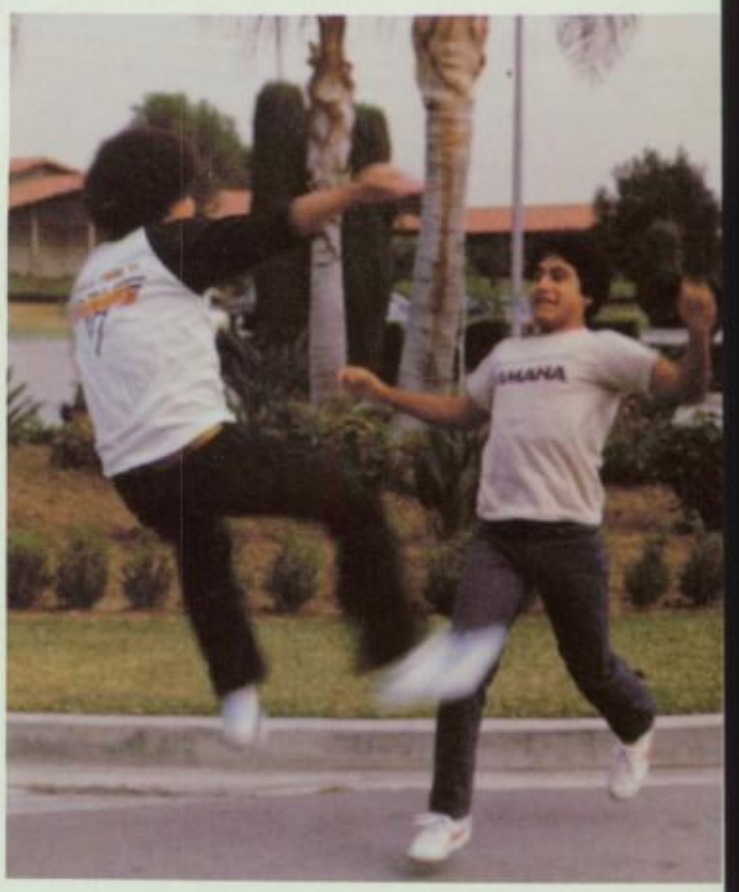






Seminarians discover many paths leading to continuous experiences in their academic, athletic, and spiritual life. The seminary establishes a sturdy foundation upon which stands humility and wisdom. With this firm foundation the seminarian's journey takes its course down the correct path. The seminary helps each person to discover his goal or destination.





ADMINISTRATION FACULTY AND STAFF

Our journey through life is promoted through the people who assist us through our growing process. The administration, faculty, and staff together make up this team that provides the path for our journey.

The priests who administrate constantly provide for our welfare and are looked upon not only as priests, but as fathers by our studentbody. The faculty consists of a large number of advocates for our journey. Always teaching us, not only in class, but outside of class by their actions. The staff works diligently to feed us, keep up our grounds, buildings, perform the office work, and all the small jobs that keep our school running.

This team works together to help us through our journey through the seminary. Without their guidance, understanding, and hard work we would not have the outstanding school that we have.

1. Lunch is one of the few times that the faculty comes together. Here they receive their chance to talk casually about the school progress.
2. The small senior Latin class enjoys their numbers and their teacher, Sr. Pauline Therese.
3. Proctoring Study Hall provides a good time for Fr. Burnham to correct homework.
4. The office ladies learn to deal with frustations, as Mrs. Dunlap so vividly demonstrates.
5. Mr. Crowley provides tennis instruction as part of his freshman P. E. program.
6. Sr. Patrice follows along while the sophomore class reads from their English text.

Office of the Rector

Dear Students:

The Class of 1982 will soon reach the sunset of their years at Our Lady, Queen of the Angels, but the sunrise awaits for them very soon.

Our Lord once said, "I am the Light of the world. No follower of mine shall ever walk in darkness; no he shall possess the light of life." These words are the Motto of the Class of 1982. Their journey through the seminary was an experience of the Light of Christ, that same light that can be shared with others.

May the Light of Christ guide you like the rays of the sun on your journey through life.

Sincerely in Christ,

Competition in the Sports Department

Confident in his recent success in the sports program, Coach Crowley is not aware of the threat from our new Math teacher, Mr. Squires. Since his college years Mr. Squires has been plotting to overcome the infamous Coach Crowley. As a star track runner he learned the basics. He majored in psychology which gave him insight into human nature. As a Marine Sergeant he received the basic quality for an athlete: discipline. Teaching in New York for 15 years he learned how to control young people. There he made his big step by teaching sports for ten years.

Now the challenge stands before him. Finally, Mr. Squires has made it to our school to challenge his rival, Coach Crowley. The sports field is now set for the match of the century.

"Hey, I didn't know that he was going for my job" —Coach Crowley

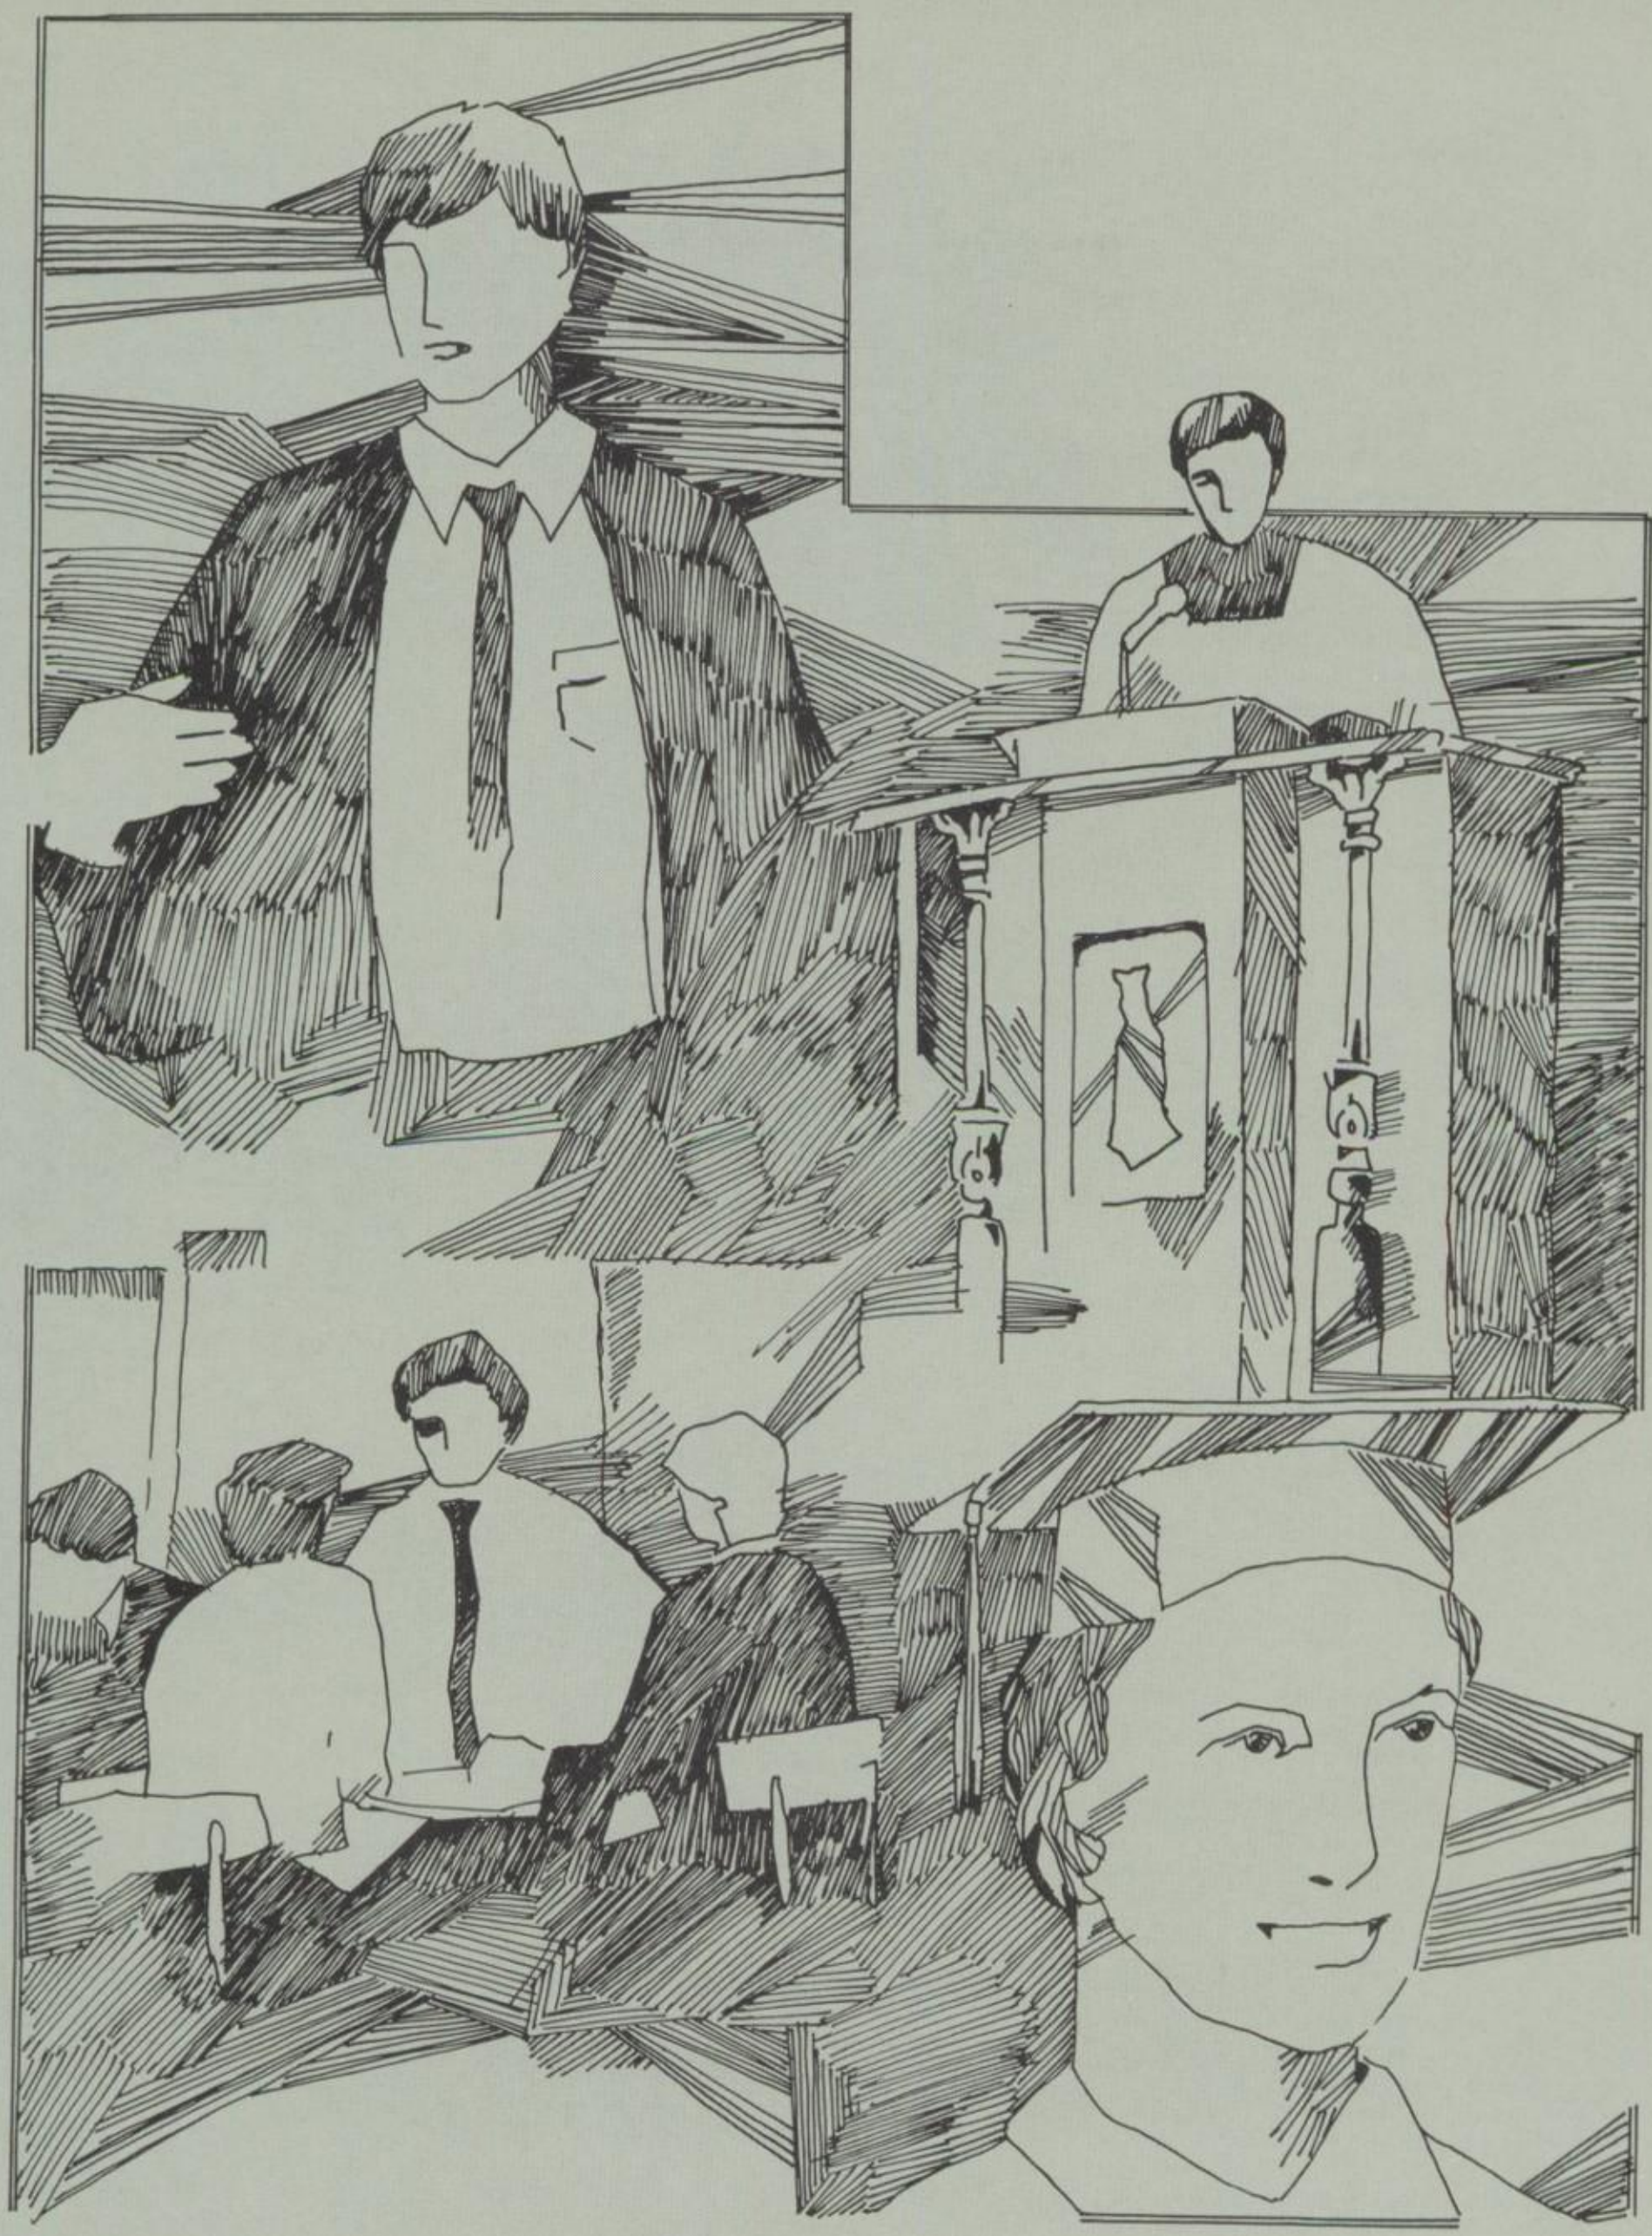
SENIORS

Senior year marks the final year of high school here at the seminary, but it does not mean the end of our journey. The journey continues for each Senior even after graduation. Before planning our own futures we, as Seniors, find it necessary to pave the way for our brother students by supporting decisions concerning the welfare of the seminary itself. Many responsibilities are placed into the hands of Seniors - responsibilities that are as important to the Seniors as they are to the Seminary. As leaders, we Seniors communicate the meaning of sharing in the work of Jesus Christ. Yes, Senior year can prove to be an exciting year, but Seniors can be involved with countless types of work. Extracurricular activities keep the Seniors busy - everything from teaching C.C.D. to helping youth detained in juvenile camps. These are the many challenges faced by Seniors, but also many rewards.

As our year draws to a close, we Seniors give a service of gratitude to the seminary, thanking the faculty for providing us with the necessary development to continue our journeys.



"Class Of 82"

It was once stated that: "friendship, like mustard seeds, starts very small but grows very tall." This statement is very applicable to the friendship established by the Senior class. Through countless days of seminary life we Seniors accumulated precious memories given to us by special friends. By friendship we promote our leadership in the seminary family and are looked up to for many decisions regarding the welfare of the school.

Because this is our final year, we, as Seniors encounter many last minute challenges. This is the year we make decisions for life after high school. Our future journeys are going to be full of opportunities following graduation. The road may occasionally be tough but we have confidence. By continuing to stay close to Christ we will certainly find our way.

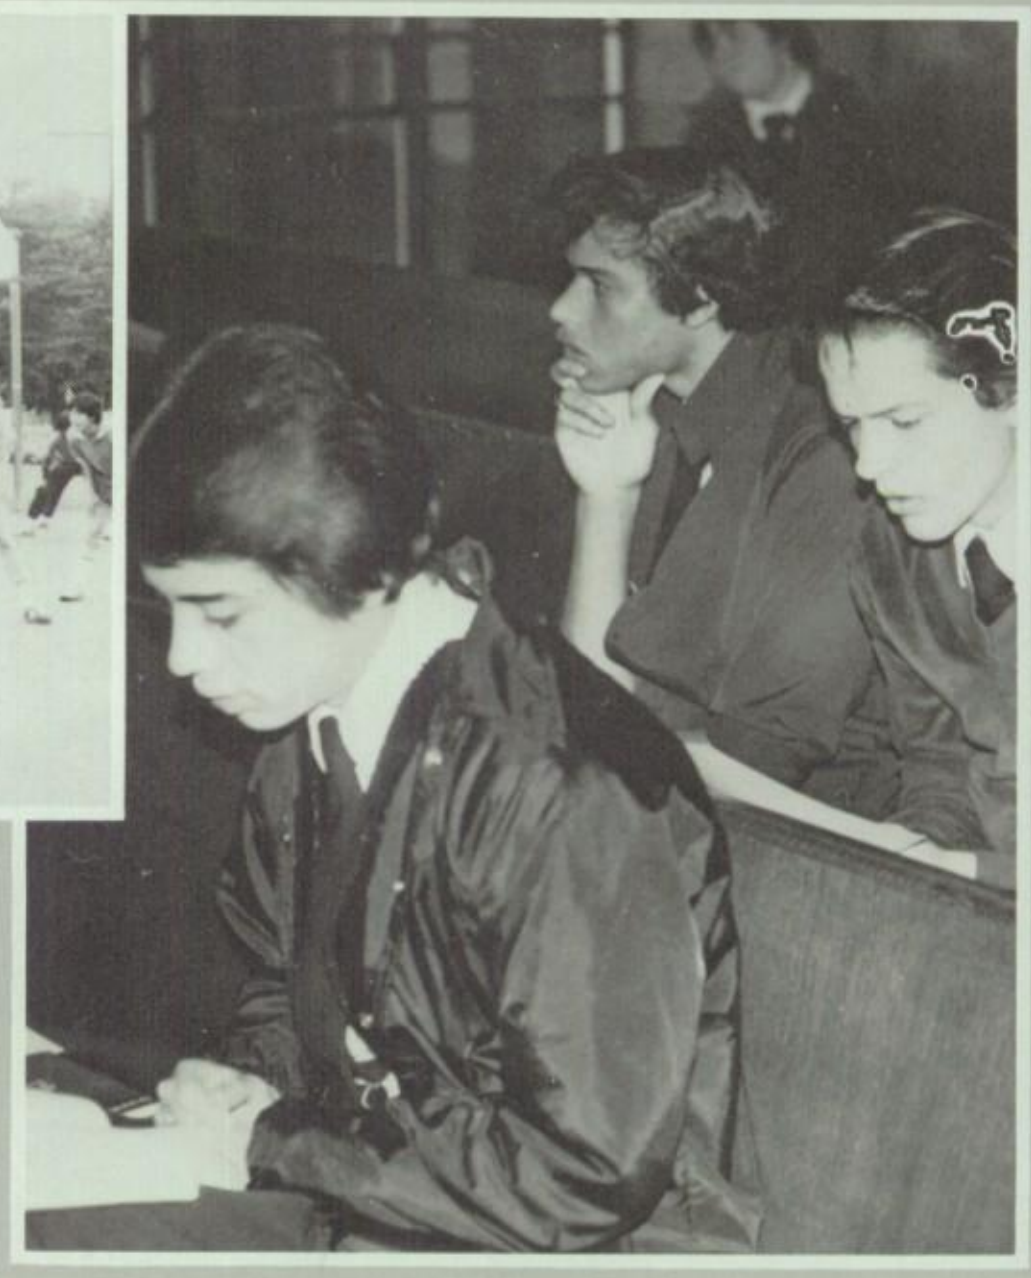
PROGRAMS

The seminary specializes in constructing a smooth highway on which the seminarian journeys toward his achievements. This highway on which the seminarian travels contains three lanes which are interchangeable but each is uniquely important as the other. These three lanes are the three special programs that the seminary provides: a spiritual program, an academic program, and an athletic program.

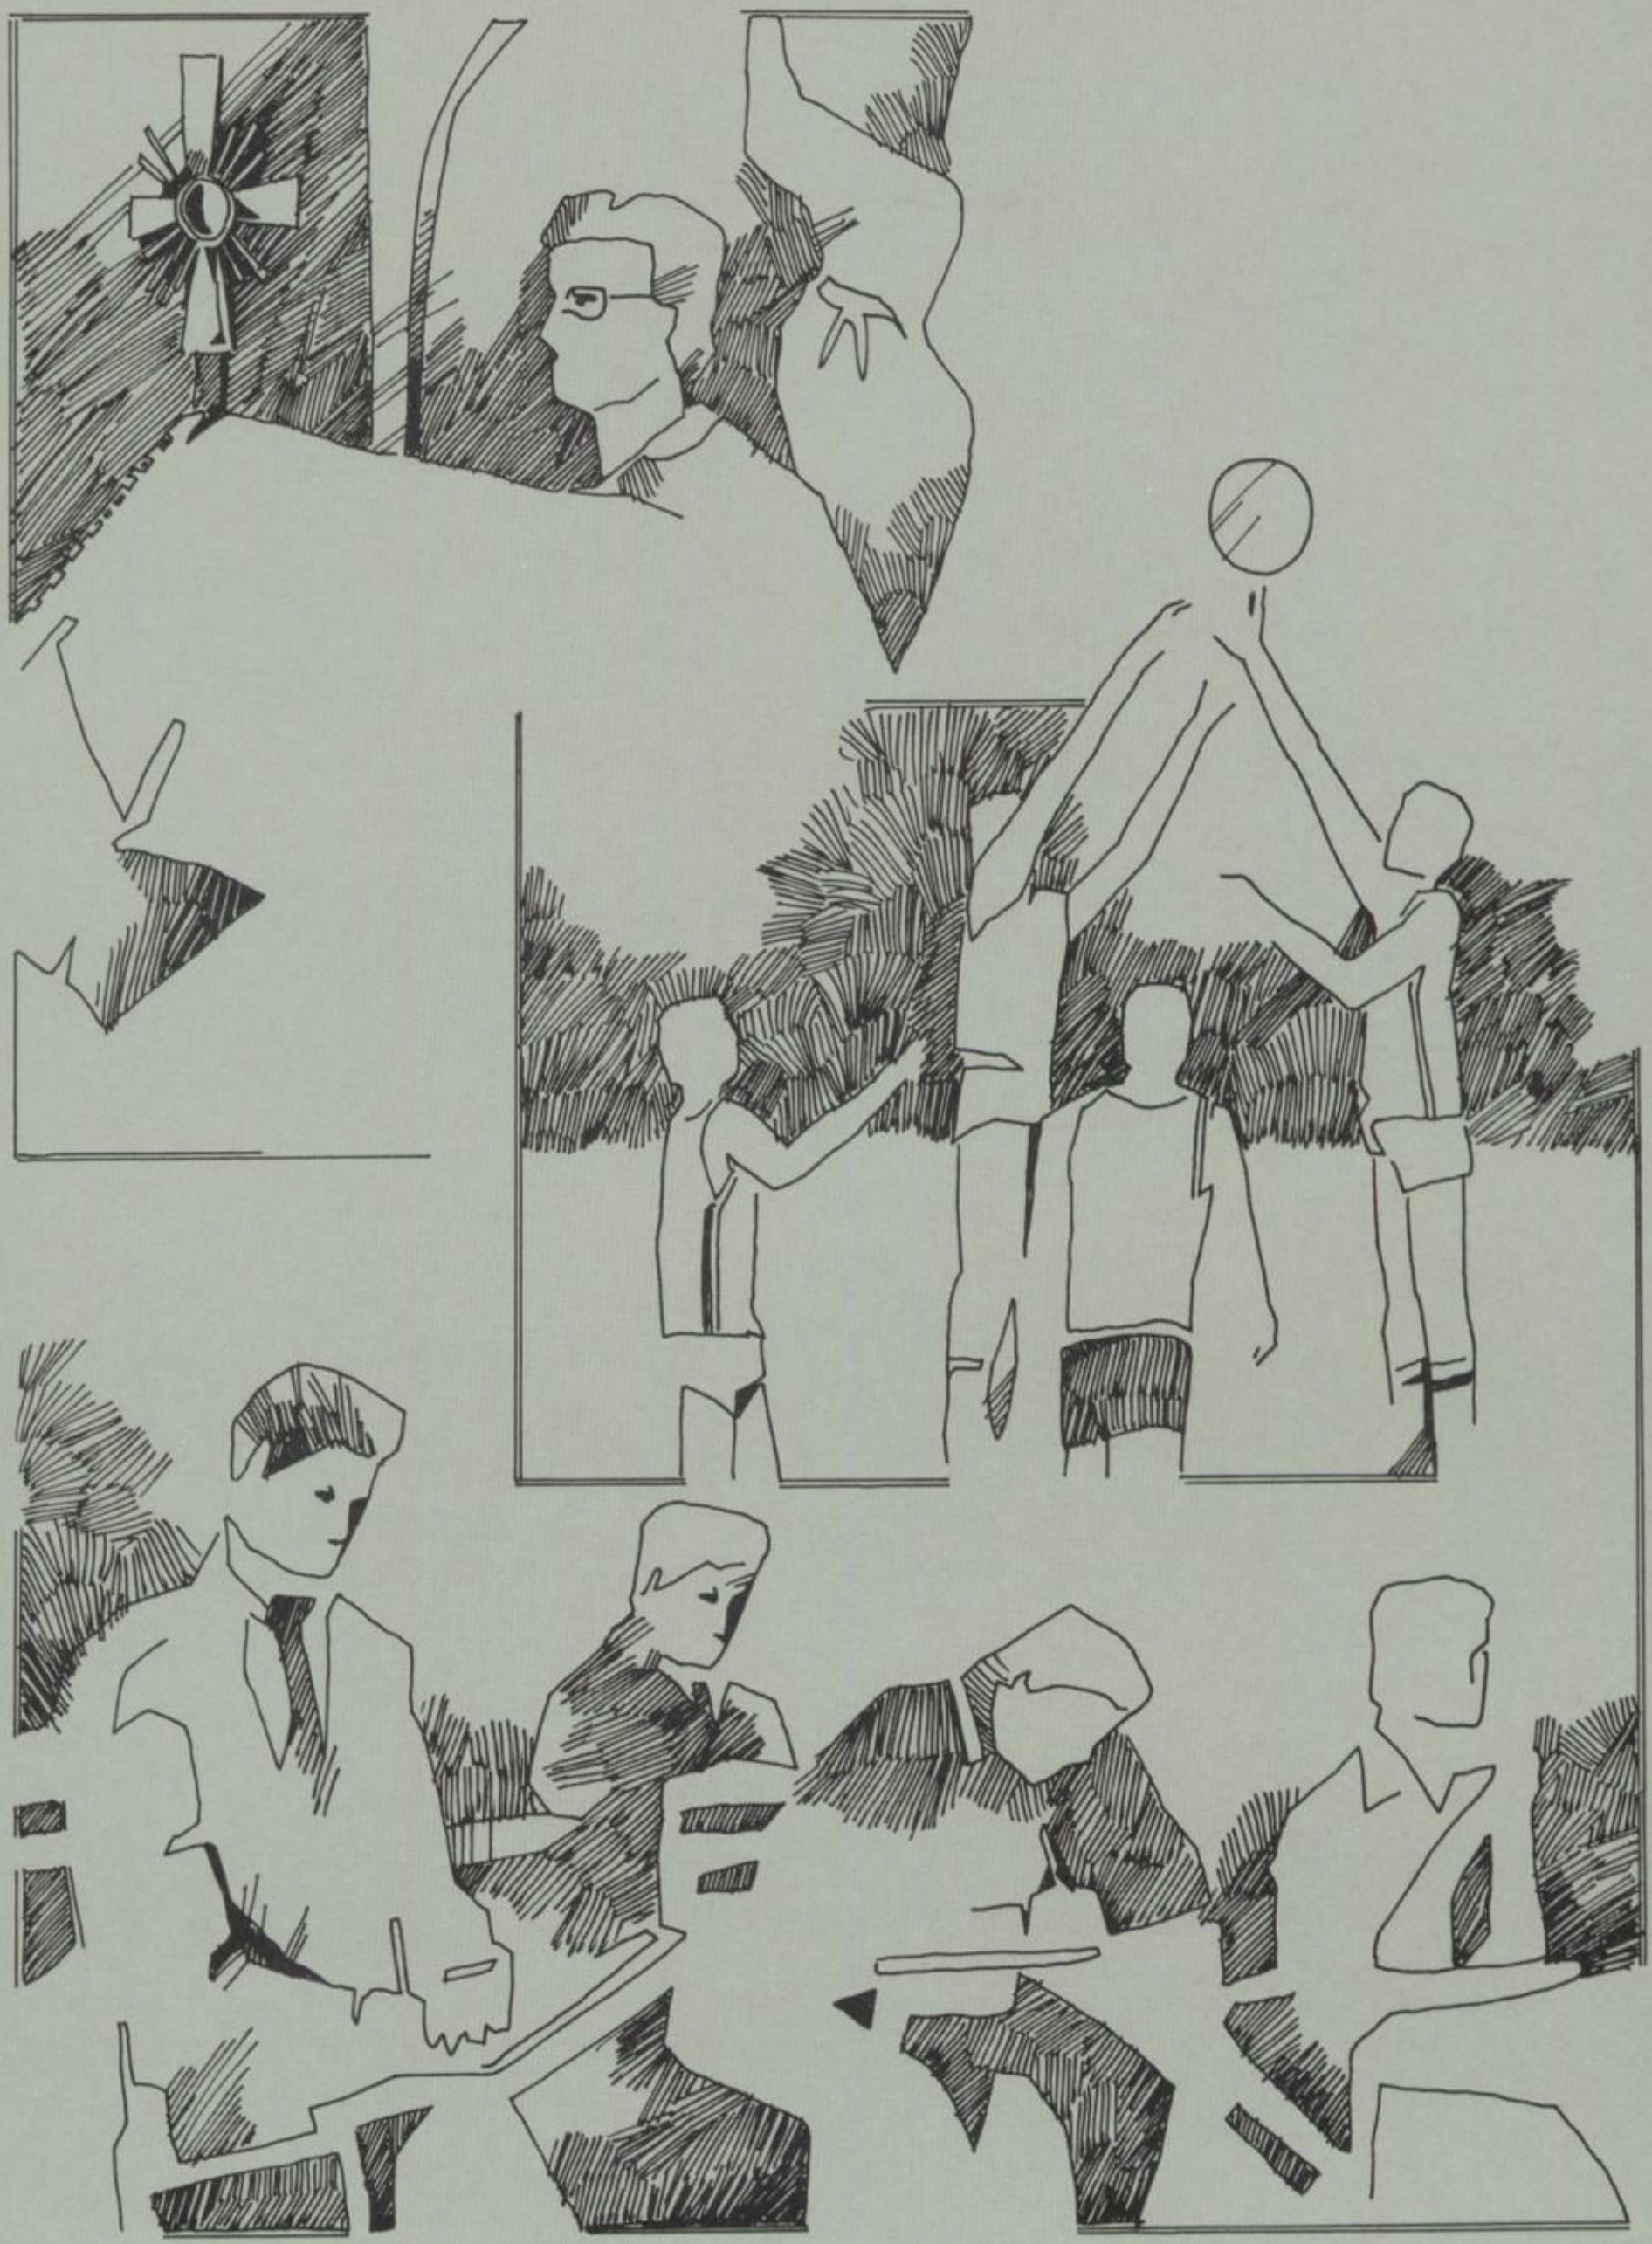
The spiritual program formulates a closeness of theological communications between God and the seminarian.

The academic program is a college preparatory program here at the seminary. An intellectual background in the seminary must be developed so that the seminarian may acquire full knowledge of his world.

The athletic program provides an opportunity for the seminarian to gain physical fitness and vitality. Afterall, a wise man must be able to pray, think, and live a healthy life in order to adapt in today's environment.

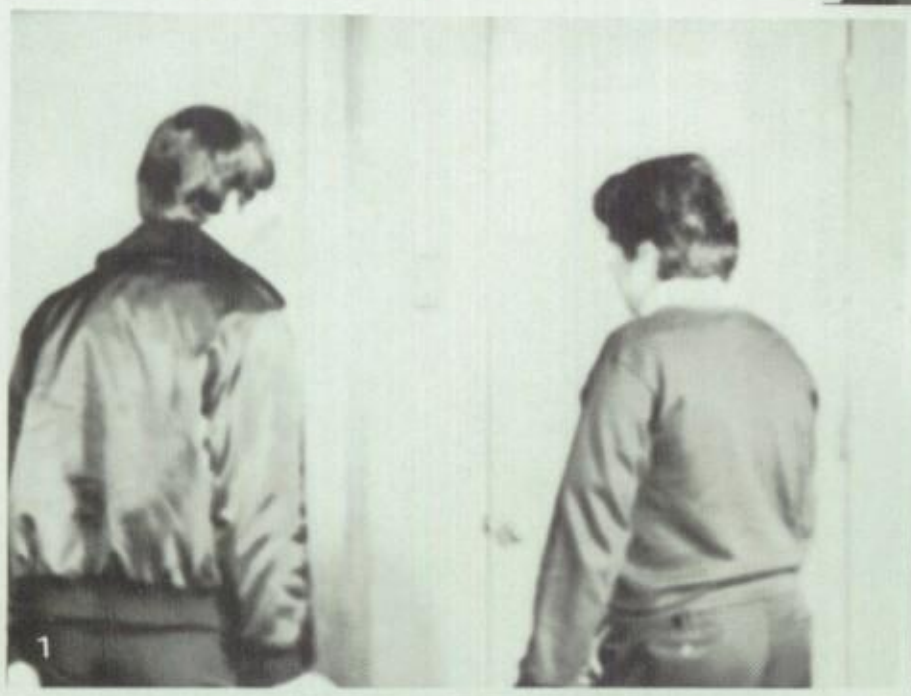


1. Calisthenics are a vital part of the seminary's sport program.
2. During the evening, Manuel Pulido, Mark Smith, and Mike Taylor take part in spiritual reading.



SPIRITUAL PROGRAM

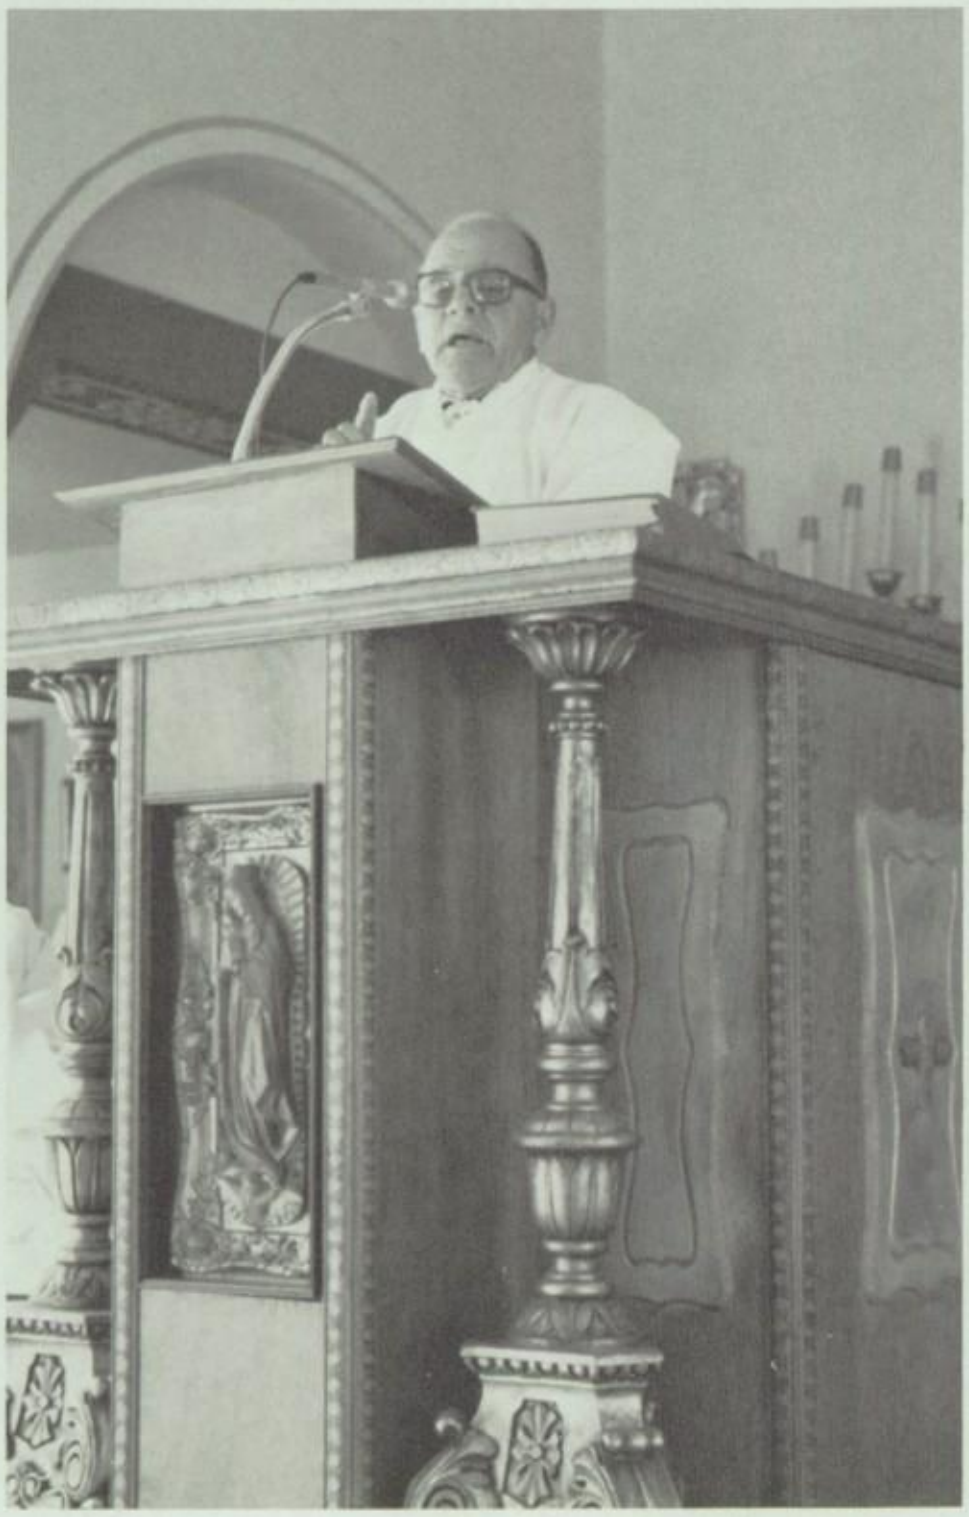
A successful seminary must have a rewarding spiritual program, one that promotes brotherhood and Christian living. When followed closely it brings on spiritual maturity at a crucial time in our lives, and creates habits that will be carried on into the adult life.



1. During a Day of Recollection, Alex Paner and Ron Garcia wait their turn for confession with Fr. Przygoda.
2. The student body says a final prayer before going to breakfast.
3. A tradition stressed this year is visiting the chapel after meals. Here Vince Ayala, Bill Borneman, and Rene Olivas say a brief prayer.
4. Marian devotion plays a major part in the spirituality of the seminary. We honor the faith of Our Lady of the Angels by praying the Rosary and Angelus every day.

MASS

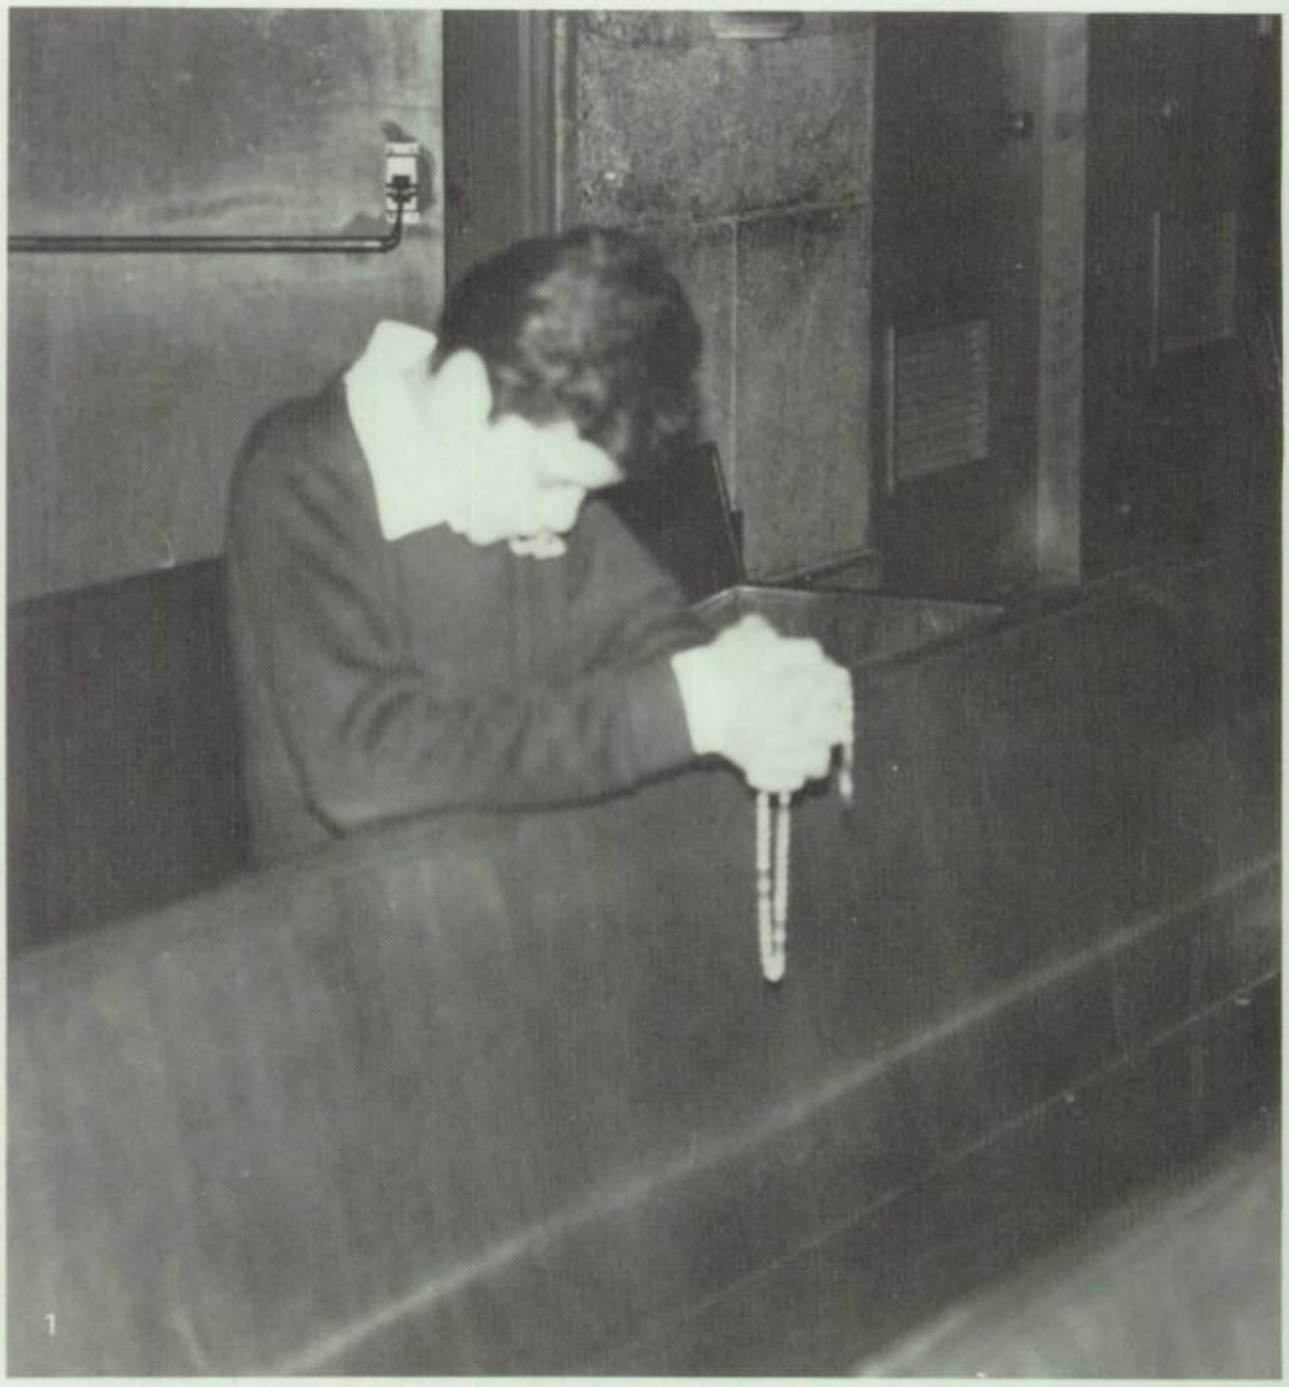
1. Sr. Leo Francis assists Fr. Burnham in distributing the Holy Eucharist at Communion time.
2. Sharing the Lord's peace, the seminarians express their brotherly love for each other.
3. During Mass Fr. Przygoda delivers a sermon on "being high on yourself".
4. As the procession leaves the chapel, the singing continues, displaying the seminary spirit at Mass.



SPIRITUAL EXERCISES

The spiritual exercises constitute a unique program in the seminary. Just as an eager student desiring to learn more would look for the most helpful and fruitful curriculum, so too a seminarian desiring to grow in faith would utilize helpful and fruitful spiritual practices. These exercises are the paths in the map of the spiritual program and are fundamental in the development of a holy person.

The exercises include most of the traditional forms of worship: the Mass, the Rosary, Benediction, Morning and Evening prayers, and spiritual reading. The students' insights into the spiritual life are also displayed in their own personal exercises, like outside Rosary, private prayers, and meditations on the Way of the Cross.

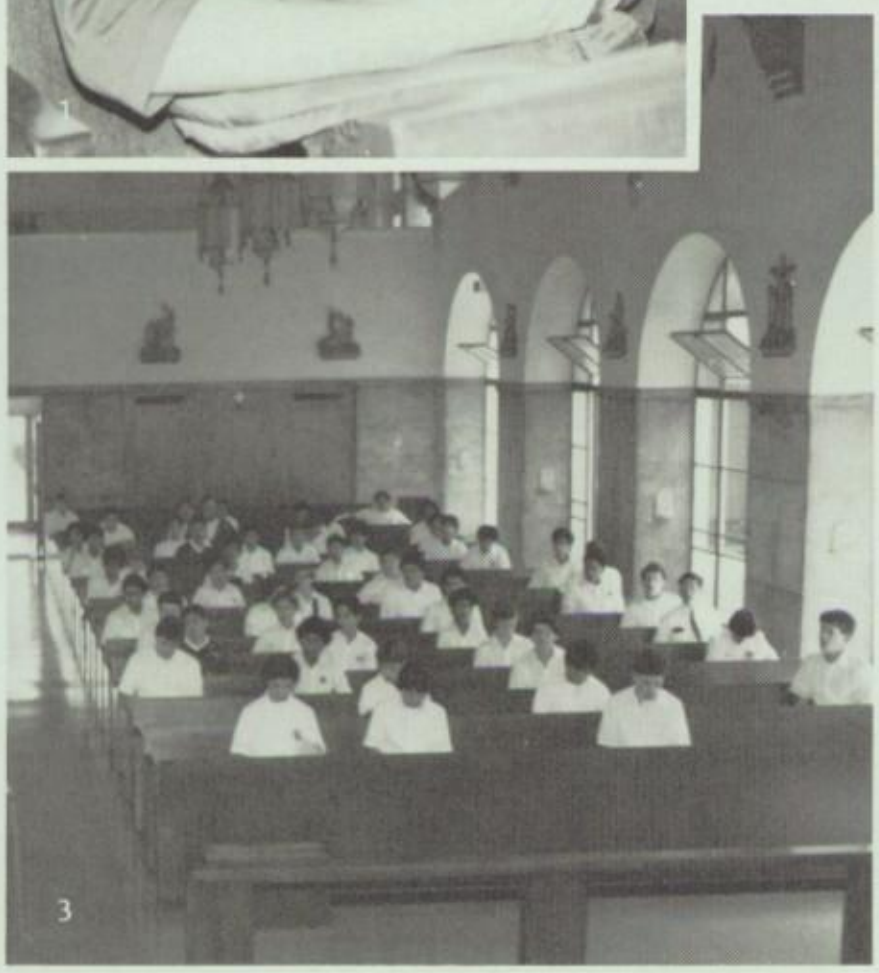


1. Besides having Rosary three times a week, some students take consolation in saying one on their own. Here, Sergio Ramos contemplates the Sorrowful Mysteries.

2. Along with spiritual guidance from talks and exercises, the students are given a chance to guide themselves by reading spiritual books to further their zeal.

3. Benediction is a highlight of our spiritual program. It gives the seminarians a special way to adore their Creator and give Him thanks for giving us his body and blood in the Eucharist.

 This page sponsored by Rev. Msgr. John W. Siebert.



1. Meditation doesn't always come easily. Rico Emmace receives help by reading his book of meditations in the quiet of the day.
2. Since the Way of the Cross is not performed as a student body until Lent, many students, like Robert Knight find time to meditate on the passion of Jesus.
3. How logical to start and end the day with a few minutes with God. Morning prayers is time set out to remember God's graces and presence throughout the day. Then, at Night prayers, the student body tries to settle their minds by getting rid of worries and examining their consciences in order to better themselves for the next day.
4. A practice that has really caught on is the Walk Around Rosary. Here senior Jim Henry leads his little brothers Robert Knight, Troy Cook, and Jim Roehrich in the Joyful Mysteries.
5. As one of the students ends a decade of the Rosary, Vince Ayala makes up his mind about who's the next leader in the community Rosary.

ACADEMIC PROGRAM

SCIENCE

1. Sr. Leo, Chairperson of the Science Department, teaches sophomores the workings of cell division.
2. The freshmen learn how to treat their bodies in Health class with Fr. Krekelberg.
3. Busy at play? No, the juniors are performing concise experiments for the betterment of man in their Chemistry class. Not seen in the picture is the damage from last weeks experiment.
4. Sr. Leo teaches the basic science laws and theories to the freshmen in Physical Science.

LATIN

1. Latin can be simple and fun in Sr. Pauline Therese's class.

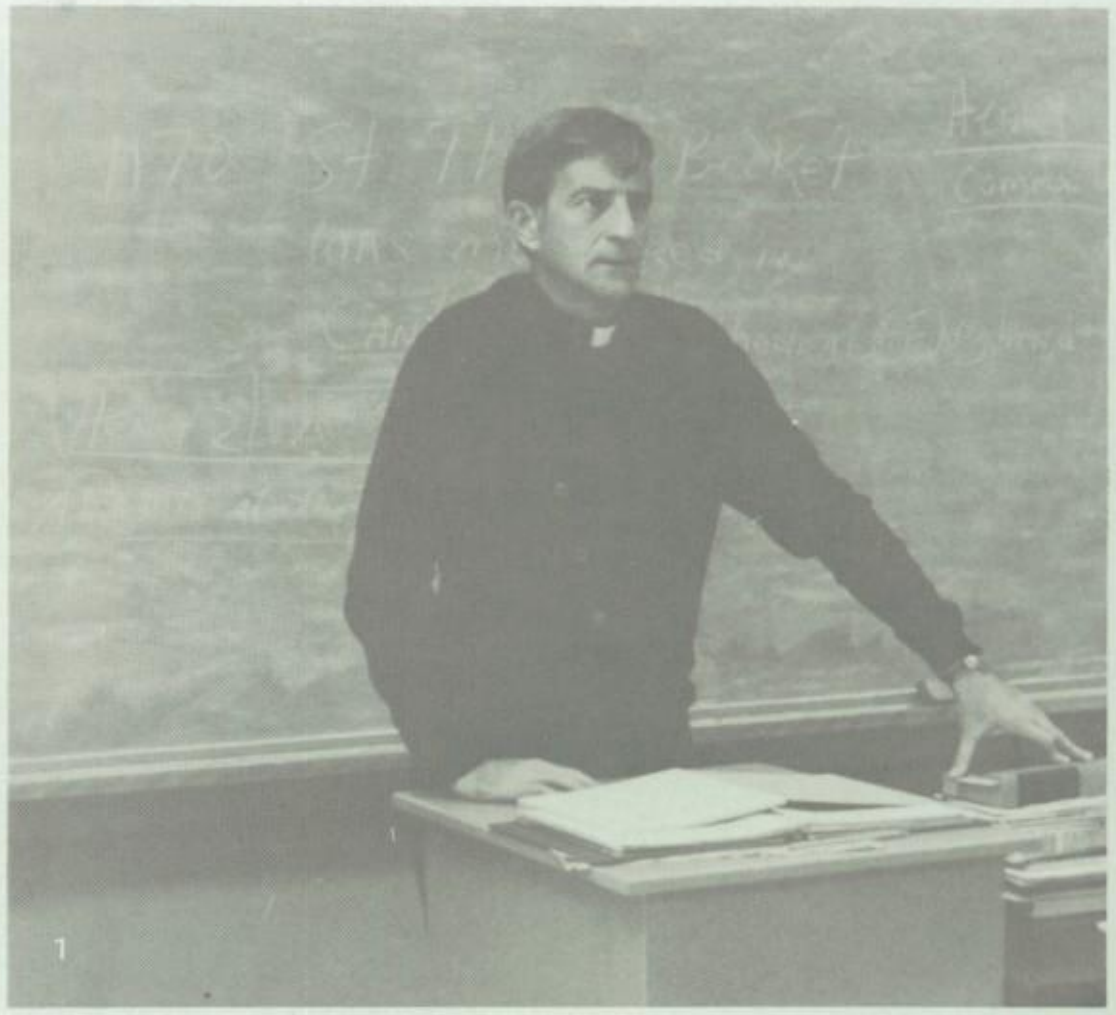
MUSIC

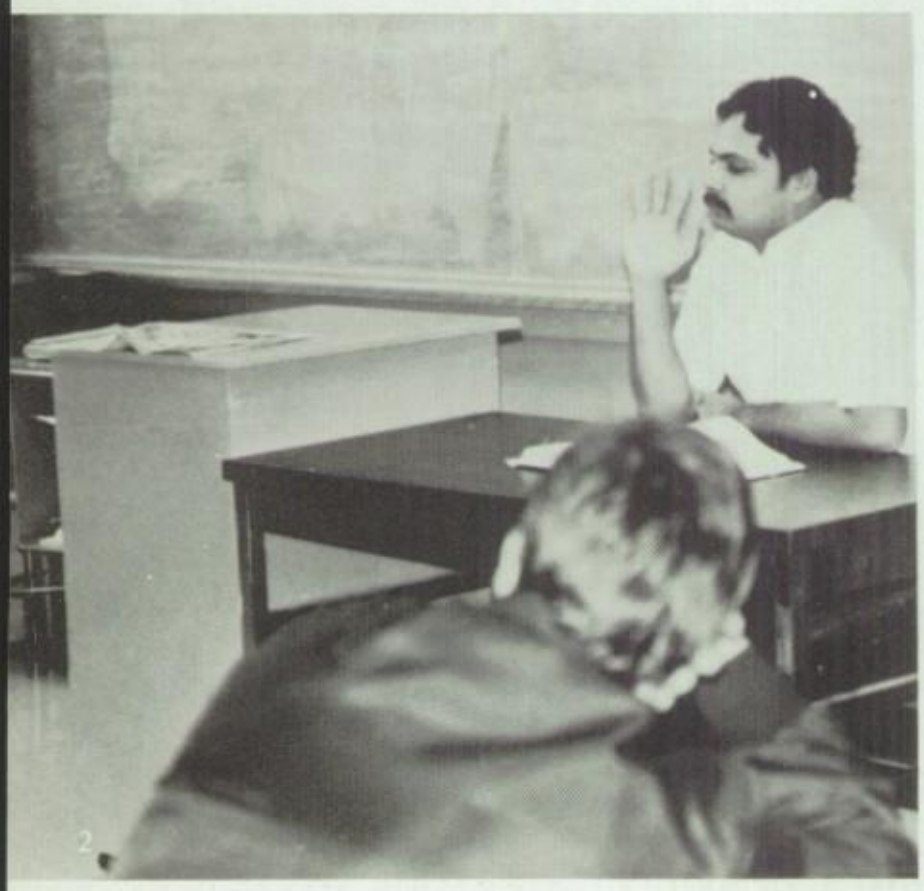
2. The sophomores learn the basics of reading music in Mrs. McGrath's class.

ACADEMIC PROGRAM

HISTORY

1. Msgr. Cokus prepares the American History Class for their upcoming test on American Presidents.
2. Mr. Bustamante explains to his World History Class the poor living conditions during the Middle Ages.



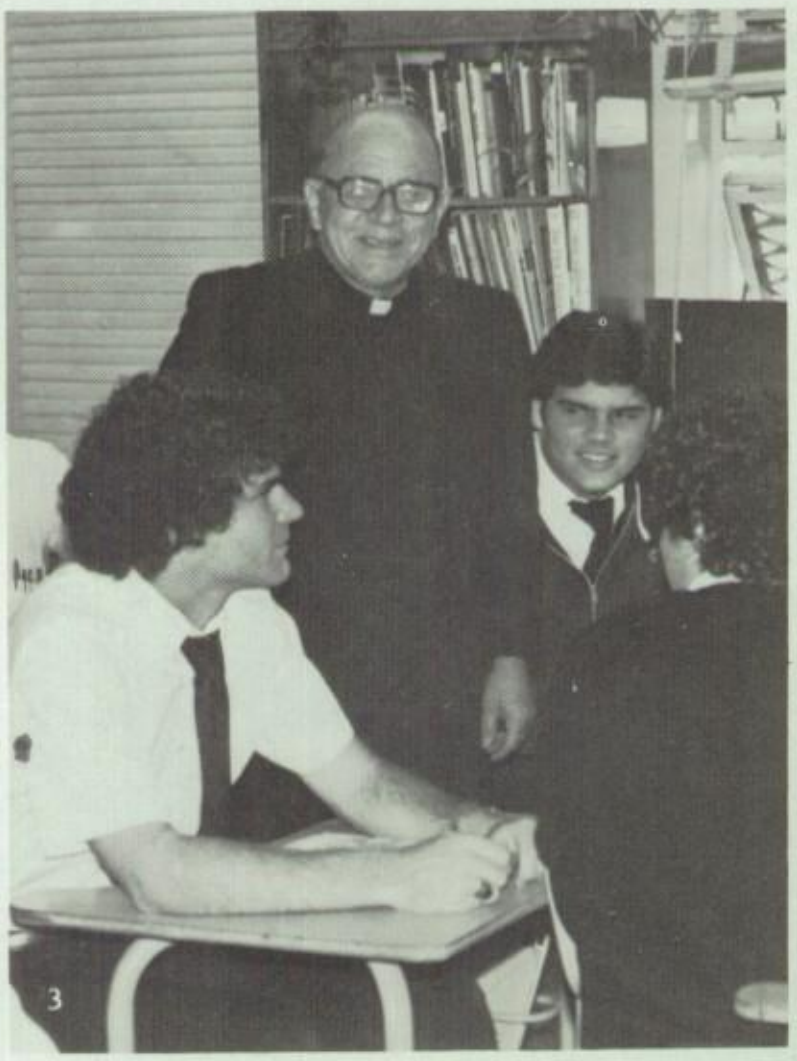


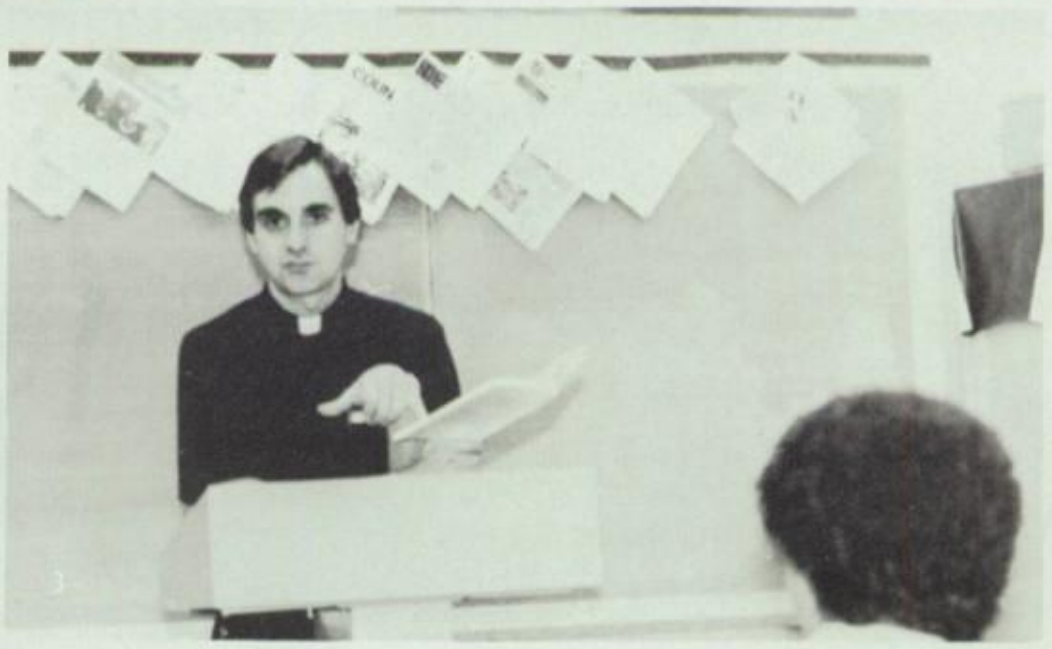
AMERICAN GOVERNMENT

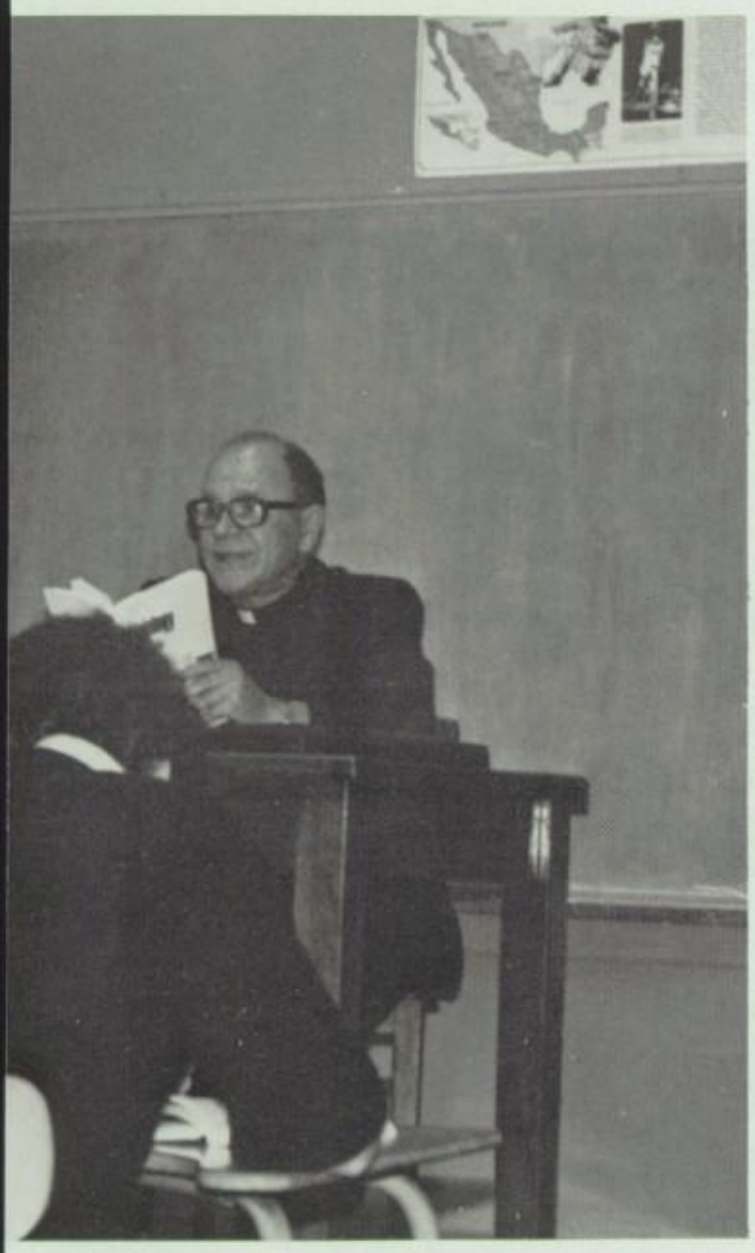
3. While lecturing on the American Constitution, Fr. Pzygoda pauses by Kevin Nolan.

SOCIOLOGY/ECONOMICS

4. During Sociology Class Fr. Pzygoda talks about the value of the family.







RELIGION

1. As soon as the Sophomores are seated after prayers, Fr. Ziemann begins to lecture on the Sermon on the Mount.
2. Freshmen listen attentively as Fr. Burnham discourses on the history of the Church.
3. Fr. Krekelberg instructs the Seniors on the methods of prayer.

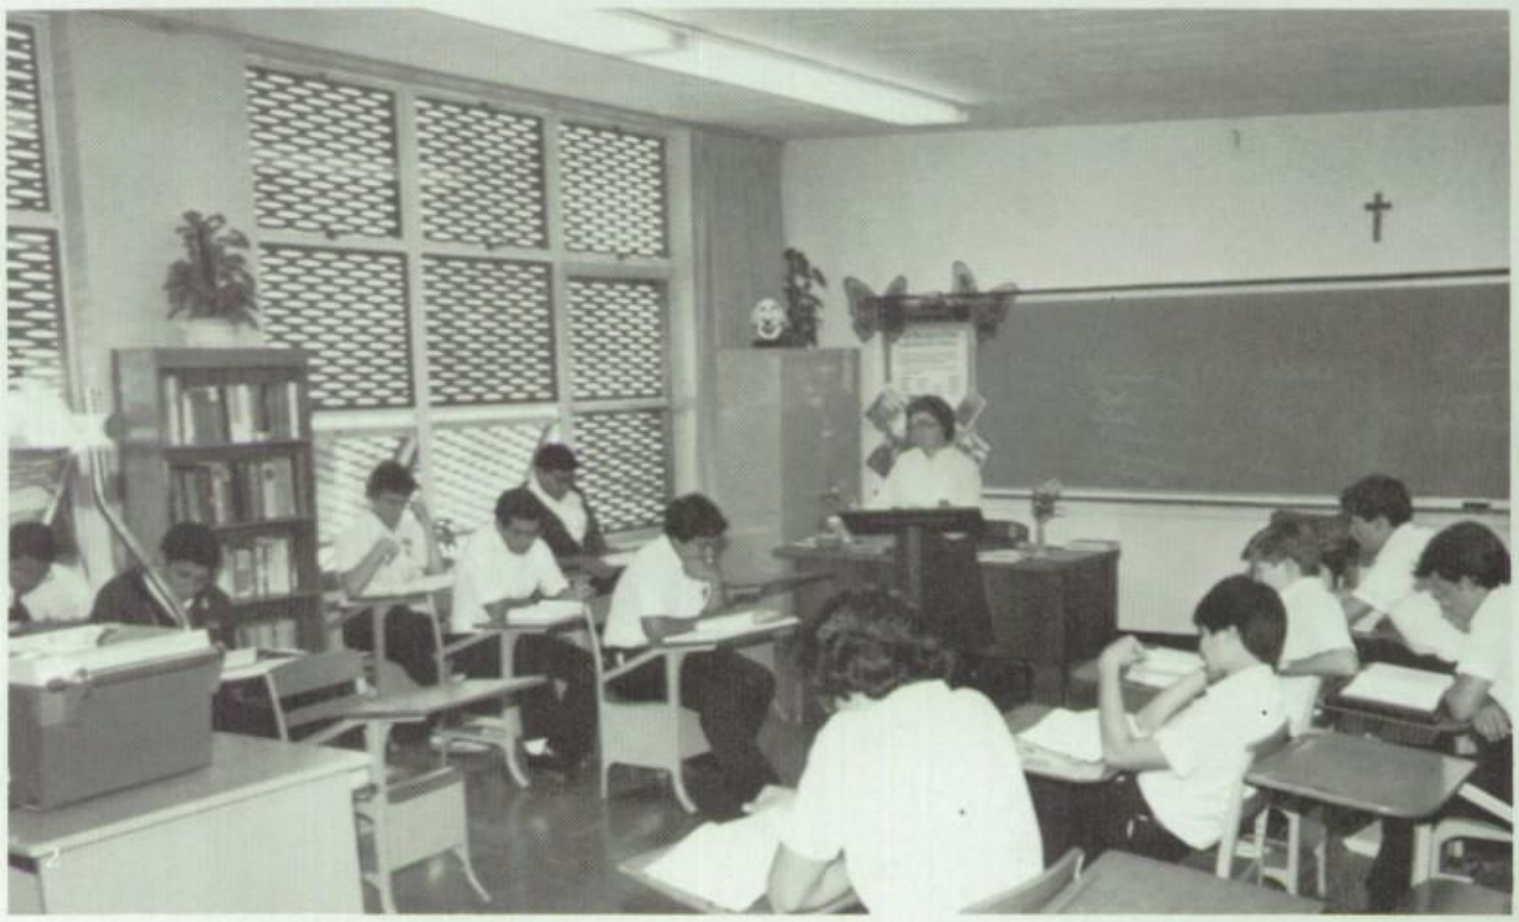
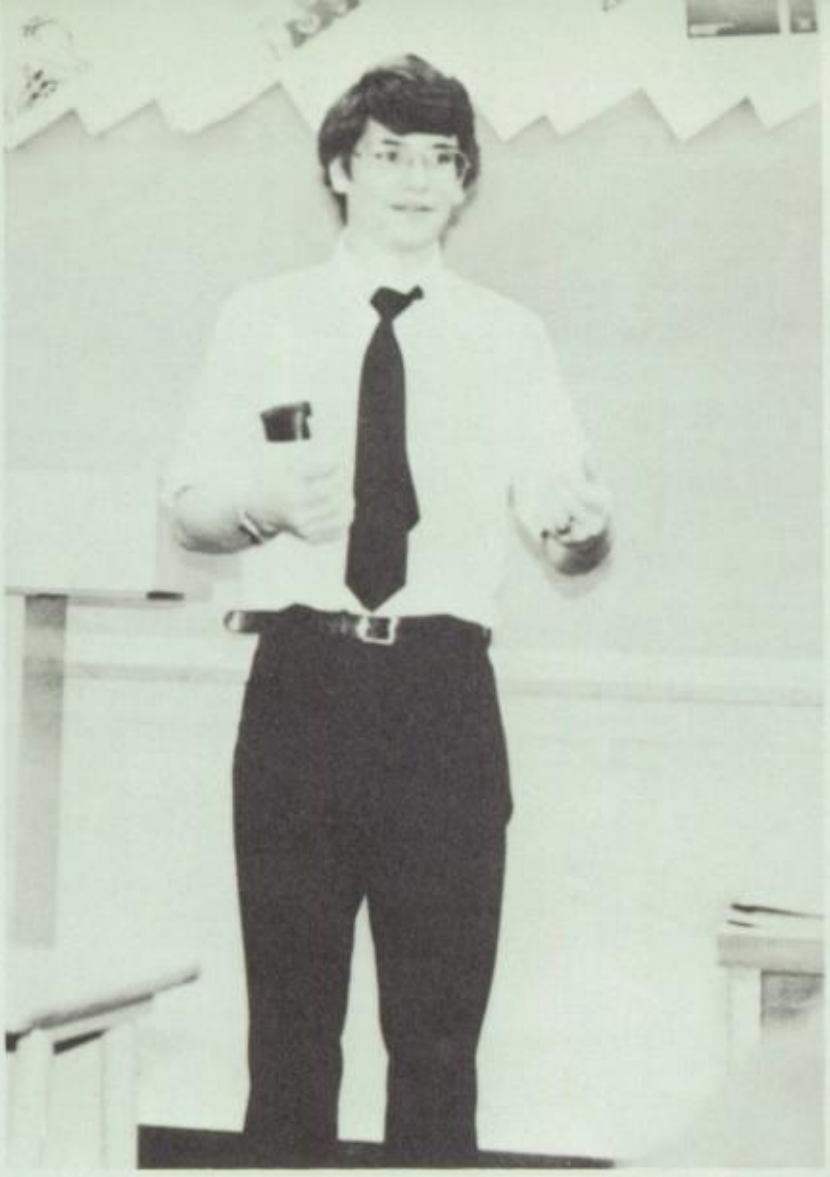
ENGLISH

1. Sr. Pauline Therese is sincere in her effort to teach freshmen proper English.
2. Sr. Patrice, Chairperson of the English department, teaches the sophomores how to write an essay. She also instructs the juniors and seniors in American & British Literature.



JOURNALISM

3. The moderator of the yearbook, Mr. Bustamante, oversees the progress being made towards his first yearbook.



SPEECH/DRAMA

1. Practicing his gestures, John Provenza delivers a clarity speech in Fr. Ziemann's class.
2. Alex Quezada, Kevin Nolan, and Mike Taylor "practice" their acting in preparation for the senior play at the end of the year.

TYPING

3. Ron Garcia is all thumbs until Mrs. Wishard points out that he needs ten fingers to type.

ART

4. To improve the sophomores' artistic talents and tastes, Mrs. Rogge teaches a well-rounded art class.

SPORTS PROGRAM

FIRST QUARTER

Coach Crowley schedules handball, tennis and volleyball for the warm weather of the first quarter. These sports offer the usual exercise and excitement, yet competition is kept up, so that the champions are given proper prestige.

1. Freshmen battle it out in a game of volleyball.
2. Calisthenics before sports allow muscles and ligaments to warm up, preventing many injuries.
3. Coach Crowley leads the students through calisthenics.
4. Adolfo Chacon serves the volleyball to his opponents.

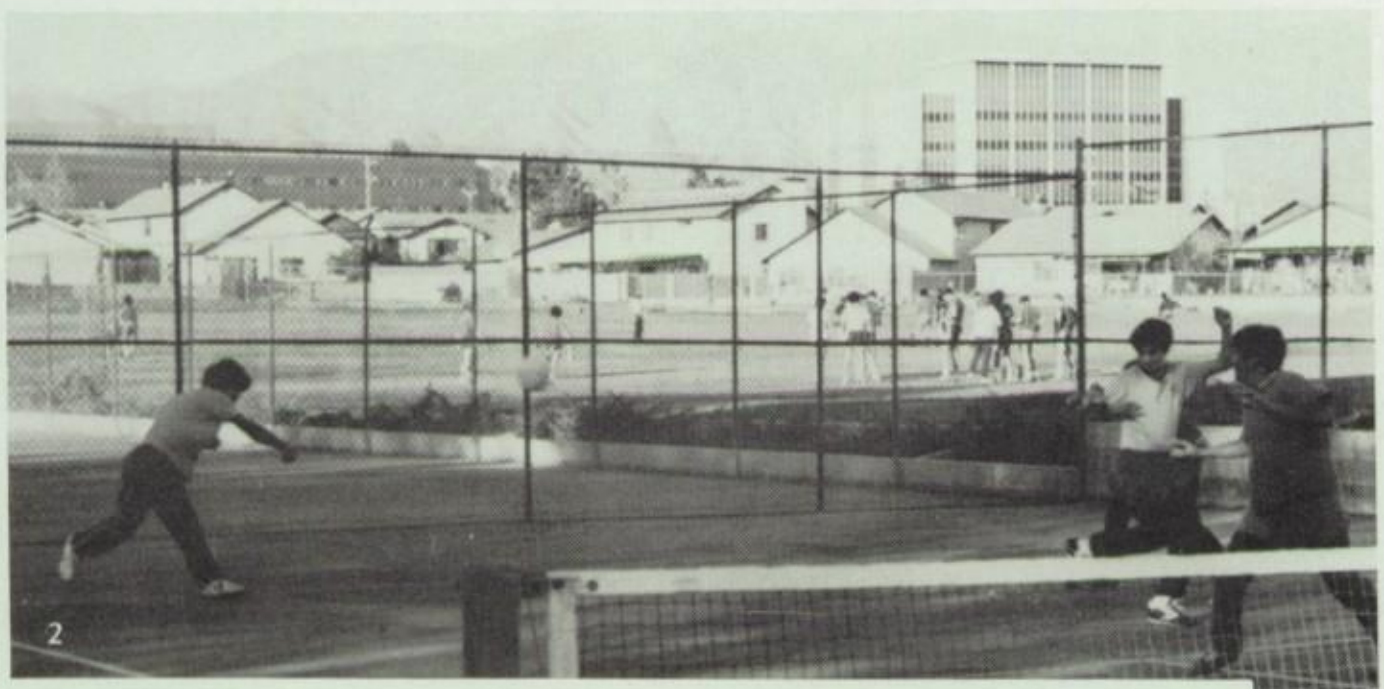
SECOND QUARTER

Scheduled in second quarter are football and warball, two of the years most popular sports. These games call for strength and speed. With Coach Crowley's special touches these games are made especially exciting, and winners can rightfully feel fulfilled.



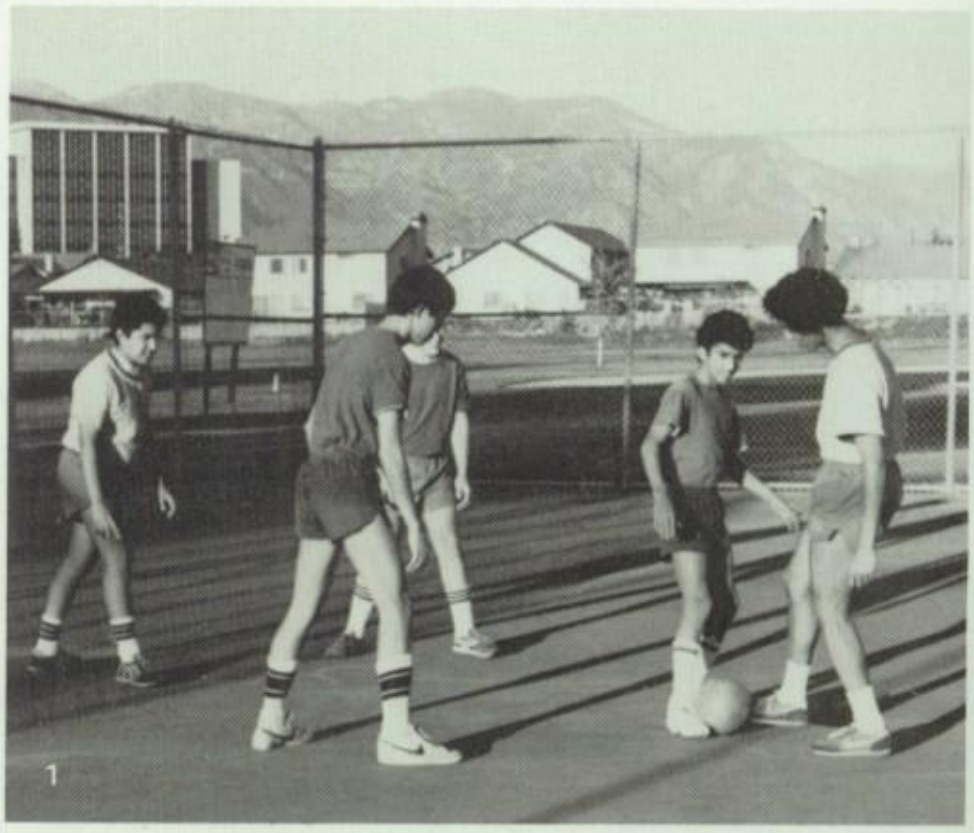
1. The opposing teams battle for position to receive the pass.
2. Vince Ayala makes a quick move to dodge the ball thrown at him.
3. Gerard Stripling lays his strategy in the huddle.
4. Alex Quezada fails in his attempt to dodge Andy Peralta's blazing toss.

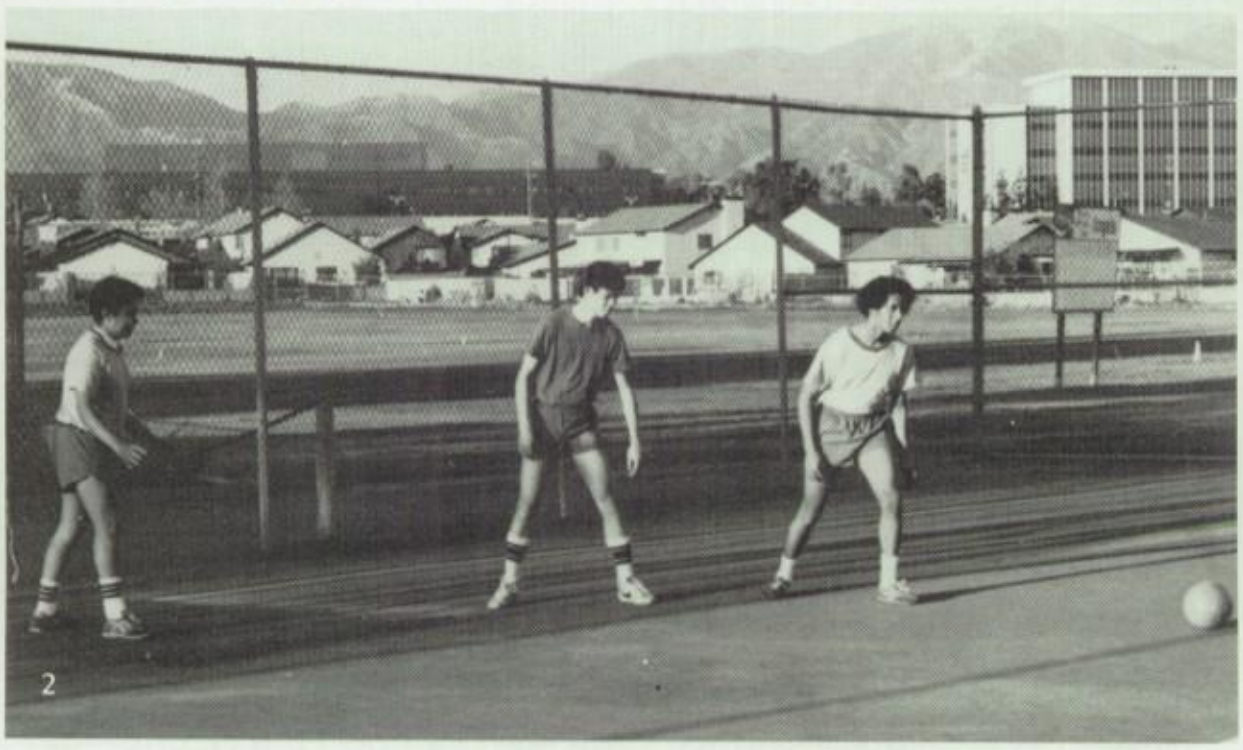
SPORTS PROGRAM

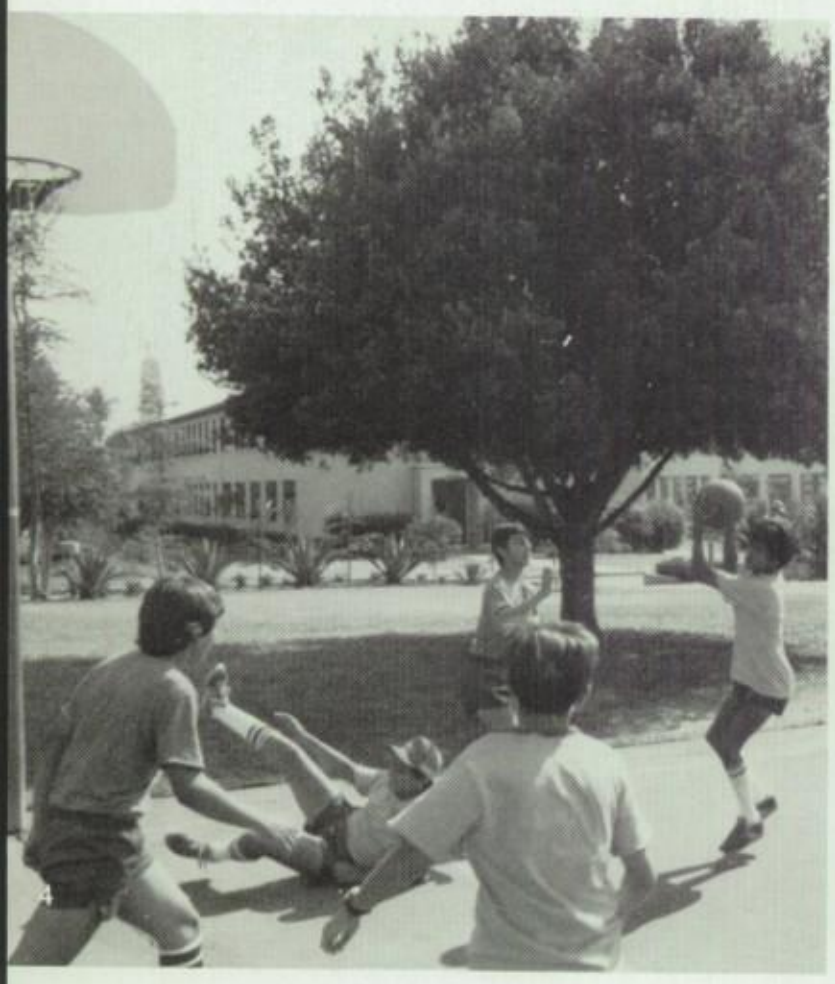
THIRD QUARTER

Hockey, Soccer, Enclosed Soccer, and Basketball provide diversity so that no one person dominates the league. The third quarter teaches us, through the joys of victory, and the agonies of defeat, the basics of sportsmanship.

1. The offense tries to steal and get the ball past goalie Ron Garcia.
2. John Forte and Alex Paner are determined to keep the ball out of the goal.
3. Jose Chavez smoothly shoots the ball over his defender.
4. Martin Pozos finds himself on the hard end of a pushing penalty under the basket.
5. Tommy Melendez blocks Sebastian Amara's attempted goal.







This page is sponsored by Rev. Daniel R. Hopcus

FOURTH QUARTER

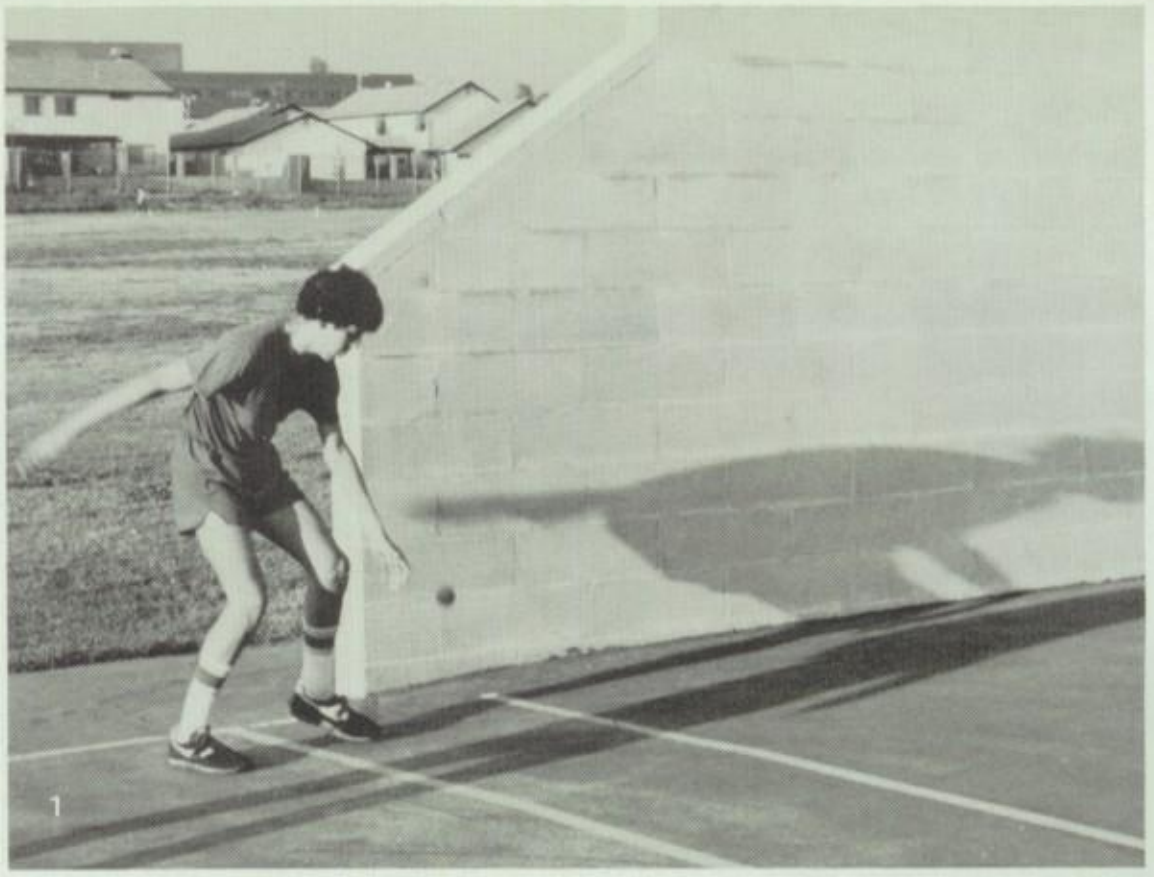
Softball returns for the fourth quarter, along with Enclosed Baseball and Ultimate Frisbee to close off the year. Coach Crowley supervises these sports with his ever present enthusiasm, and adds his professional touches.

1. Jose Chavez prepares to fire, while Matt Howard cringes in horror.
2. The class of '85 hasn't quite made it through Darwin's evolutionary process.
3. Kevin, Nolan, and John Provenza mix business with pleasure as they discuss last night's student council meeting and exercise.
4. It's time for Ultimate Frisbee and everyone wants to participate.
5. Hipolito Munoz looks for an opening, but everyone else is looking for him.

This page sponsored by Rev. Msgr. John A. Kucingis.

SPECIAL SPORTS

Throughout the year Coach Crowley intersperses regular sports with special competitions. These competitions vary from class vs. class to partner competition with events like the Football Classic, the Two-Man Volleyball competition, Physical Fitness Test, Handball Tournament, the Track Meet, Nite League Basketball, One-on-One Basketball Championship, Frisbee Golf, Class Basketball Championship, and the Enclosed Baseball World Series.



1. David Perez-Carrillo practices his forehand in anticipation of the Handball Tournament.
2. James Sanchez shoots a jumper over James Galido. Eventually, Sanchez lost the Nite League Championship to Stripling.
3. Rico Emnace calls back another of the sophomores' many touchdowns against the seniors in the Classic.
4. The sophomores are obviously not happy with Rico's call and they try to find out the cause of the infraction.

This page sponsored in memory of Dan Walsh.

C.I.F. BASEBALL

The C.I.F. baseball team represents the seminary. They show that we excel not only in spirituality and academics, but in athletics and sportsmanship too.

1. Rene Olivas hustles, and makes it safely to first base.
2. Greg Bickel and Mike Estrada help Coach Coady with statistics and other necessities.

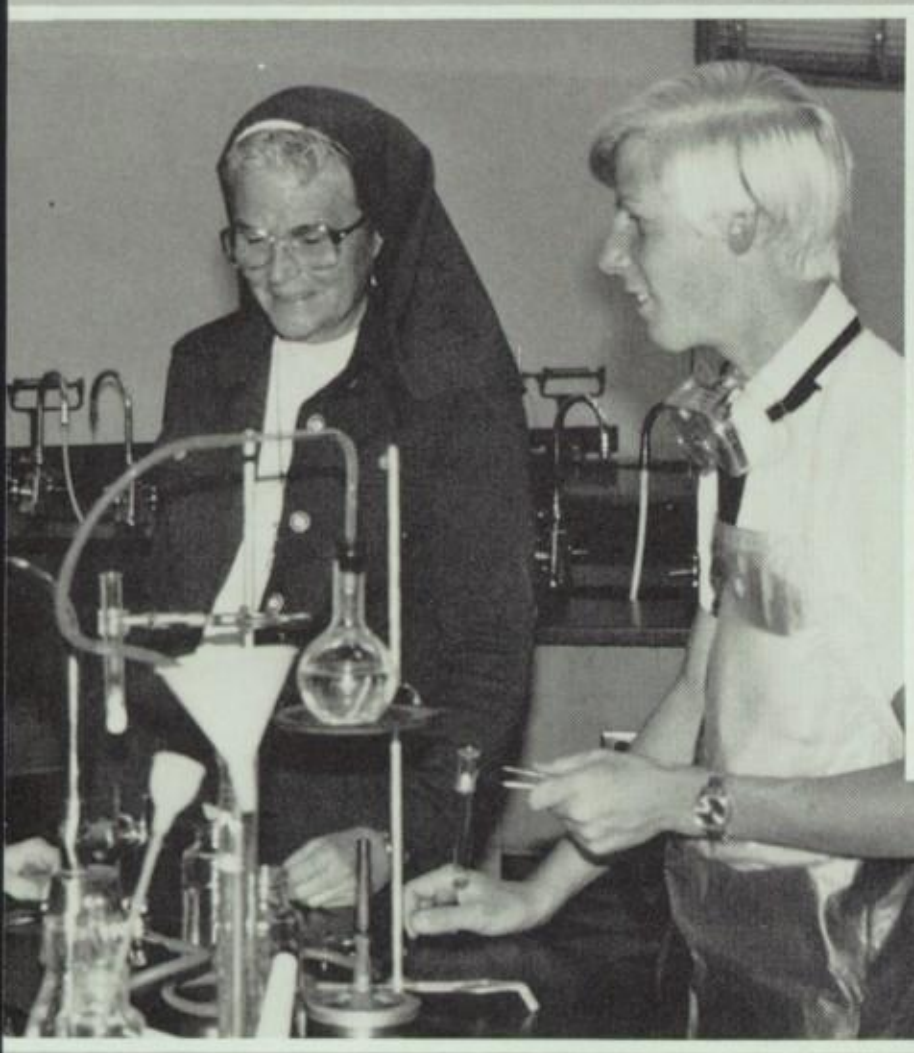
STUDENTS

A collaboration of students from different backgrounds, cities, and even countries are represented here at Our Lady Queen of Angels Seminary. Whether it is a student from Orange County or from Ventura County, we each are called by God to a community gathered together under one roof answering a call to its priesthood.

Although we each come from a different journey of life we walk down the same path of brotherhood sharing the same common beliefs.

Close relationships are established within the seminary wall, especially with the one close friend seminarians turn to in times of need, Jesus Christ.

Prayer, studies, and work build within each seminarian a sense of values upon which his foundation is established. In the seminary students live together in a close community developing their own sense of responsibility helped along by the interest and concern of other students.



1. Students walking to the refectory after mass to eat lunch.
2. Sr. Leo Francis helps Robert Stoutenburgh and Dave Zak with their experiment in Chemistry Class.

JUNIORS

A Junior's job is basically to supply the backbone for the school. The head of the student body, the Seniors, supply the leadership, while the Juniors back them up by humility and example for the rest of the student body.

To insure a strong backbone, it must be properly cared for. This is done here at the seminary by spiritual exercises and careful stress in studies. Sure, the Seniors have the leadership, but the Juniors are to be the perfect body members, strong and capable.

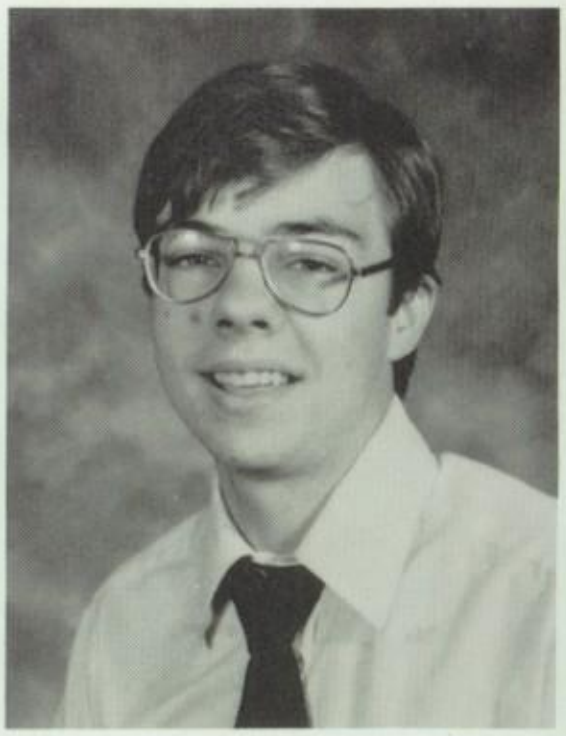
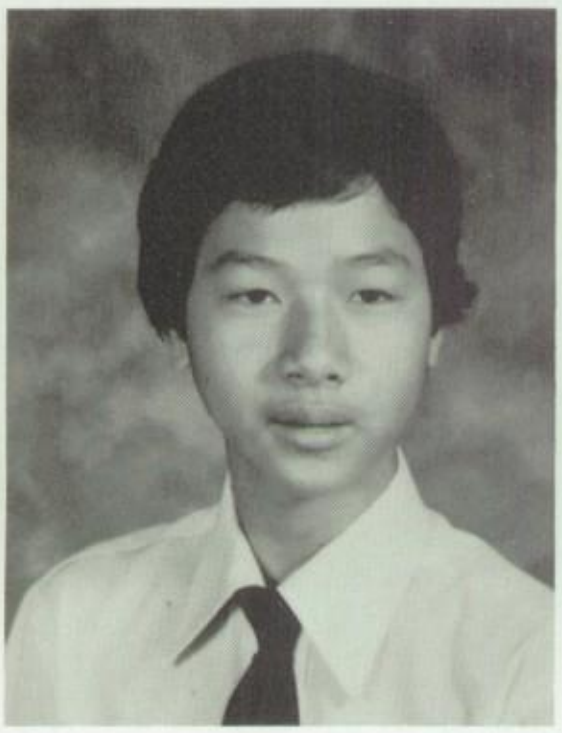
4. Explaining to Vince Ayala, Carlos Armas shows him that there is more to life than just news, weather, and sports.
5. Junior Vice-President Ernie Flores discusses class business with Junior President Jim Crane.



James Crane



Thinh Dinh

1. Near the side of the school, Joe Enriquez and Thinh Dinh observe a passing squirrel in the midst of the trees.
2. Preparing for Mass is a great pleasure for Martin Olivar and Carlos Armas, while Greg Bickel thinks about being home.
3. During free time, Mike Estrada and Ernie Flores sit and relax playing one of their favorite tunes.
4. After Coach Crowley's regular sports program, many students, including Juniors, take in extra sports like handball.
5. While reading to Jim Crane, Rico Emnace finds a paragraph of interest concerning religion.

CLASS TALENTS

Mike Estrada has been a disc jockey for almost two years working two nights a week. He makes over a hundred dollars a night but says he does it mostly because he likes to see people have a good time.

Vince Ayala has a talent for painting glass. In a year's time he has made ten of them, some being priced from forty to seventy-five dollars. People consider his work as done by a professional.

Gerard Stripling is the school's BMX champ. He started in 1978 but broke loose in the summer of 1980 when he consistently won first and second places, all firsts in August. That November he went to the Nationals and won fifth place in the fifteen year old expert class, beating out fifty-one other contestants nationwide.

Greg Bickel started Scouts in second grade and has risen six ranks to his present Life Boy Scout. He needs only two more merit badges for Eagle Scout and expects it in six months to a year. When he does attain it, he will receive a book of letters from the President, Vice-President, and other officials in a grand ceremony.

SOPHOMORE

Sophomore year is the first year we take any responsibilities; we take on jobs, student council offices, and we become an important part of the seminary community. After a year of adjustment to seminary life, we move in a definite direction, toward leadership, and bigger responsibilities. Sophomore year is a year we will remember always.

1. English is taught to the Sophomores by Sr. Patrice.
2. Meet Matt Simpson and Mike Evans, sophomore representatives.
3. Mrs. McGrath teaches a new song to her music class.

ROCK LIVES IN THE SOPHOMORES

Rock and Roll will not die, at least not as long as several of the members of this year's Sophomore class have anything to do about it.

There are two, count them two, bands in the class of '84. One band is "Zephyr". They are led by Rafael Salazar, who does vocals, and a little lead work. The other band is called "Future Shock". They are lead by Art Topete and Tony Fernandez, both on guitars.

The other members of the bands are Bill Killmond (guitar), Viet Nguyen (guitar), Joe Castillo (bass), and Don Nieman (freshman drummer) for "Zephyr". Jeff Falero (vocals), Dave Vazquez (bass) and Robert Guzman (drums) play for "Future Shock". They play Beatle and Stone rhythms as well as new music.

I have listened to both bands, and I must say they have a distinctive—interesting sound. Rather than describe it, I'll leave it to your imagination.

FRESHMEN

The biggest emphasis freshmen year is academic discipline. From there, freshmen proceed to spiritual growth and the family unity that gives the seminary its special character. Even if students discover the seminary isn't for them, the basic groundwork of freshmen year and the brotherhood of the school will serve as references towards a better Christian life.

SEMINARY PROFILE

Along our journey of life there comes days when leadership of a Christian community is dependent on an experienced leader. Through the many responsibilities given to a seminarian he learns to accept the challenges of holding a position. Learning, making mistakes, and assuming jobs are part of the seminarian's journey towards leadership, a unique position which demands these experiences. Whether it is freshman year or senior year the seminarian encounters many opportunities in leadership at home, in his parish, and at the seminary.

Throughout the course of the day, seminarians venture through the same routines, but experience different occurences such as learning new things, obtaining different ideas, and consuming new frontiers. We are not lost pioneers for we employ God as a necessary guide for accepting each day as it comes.

1. The Mass provides a key part in the journey through the seminary.
2. One of the responsibilities for Dan Campbell and Rafael Salazar is work order on Wednesday.

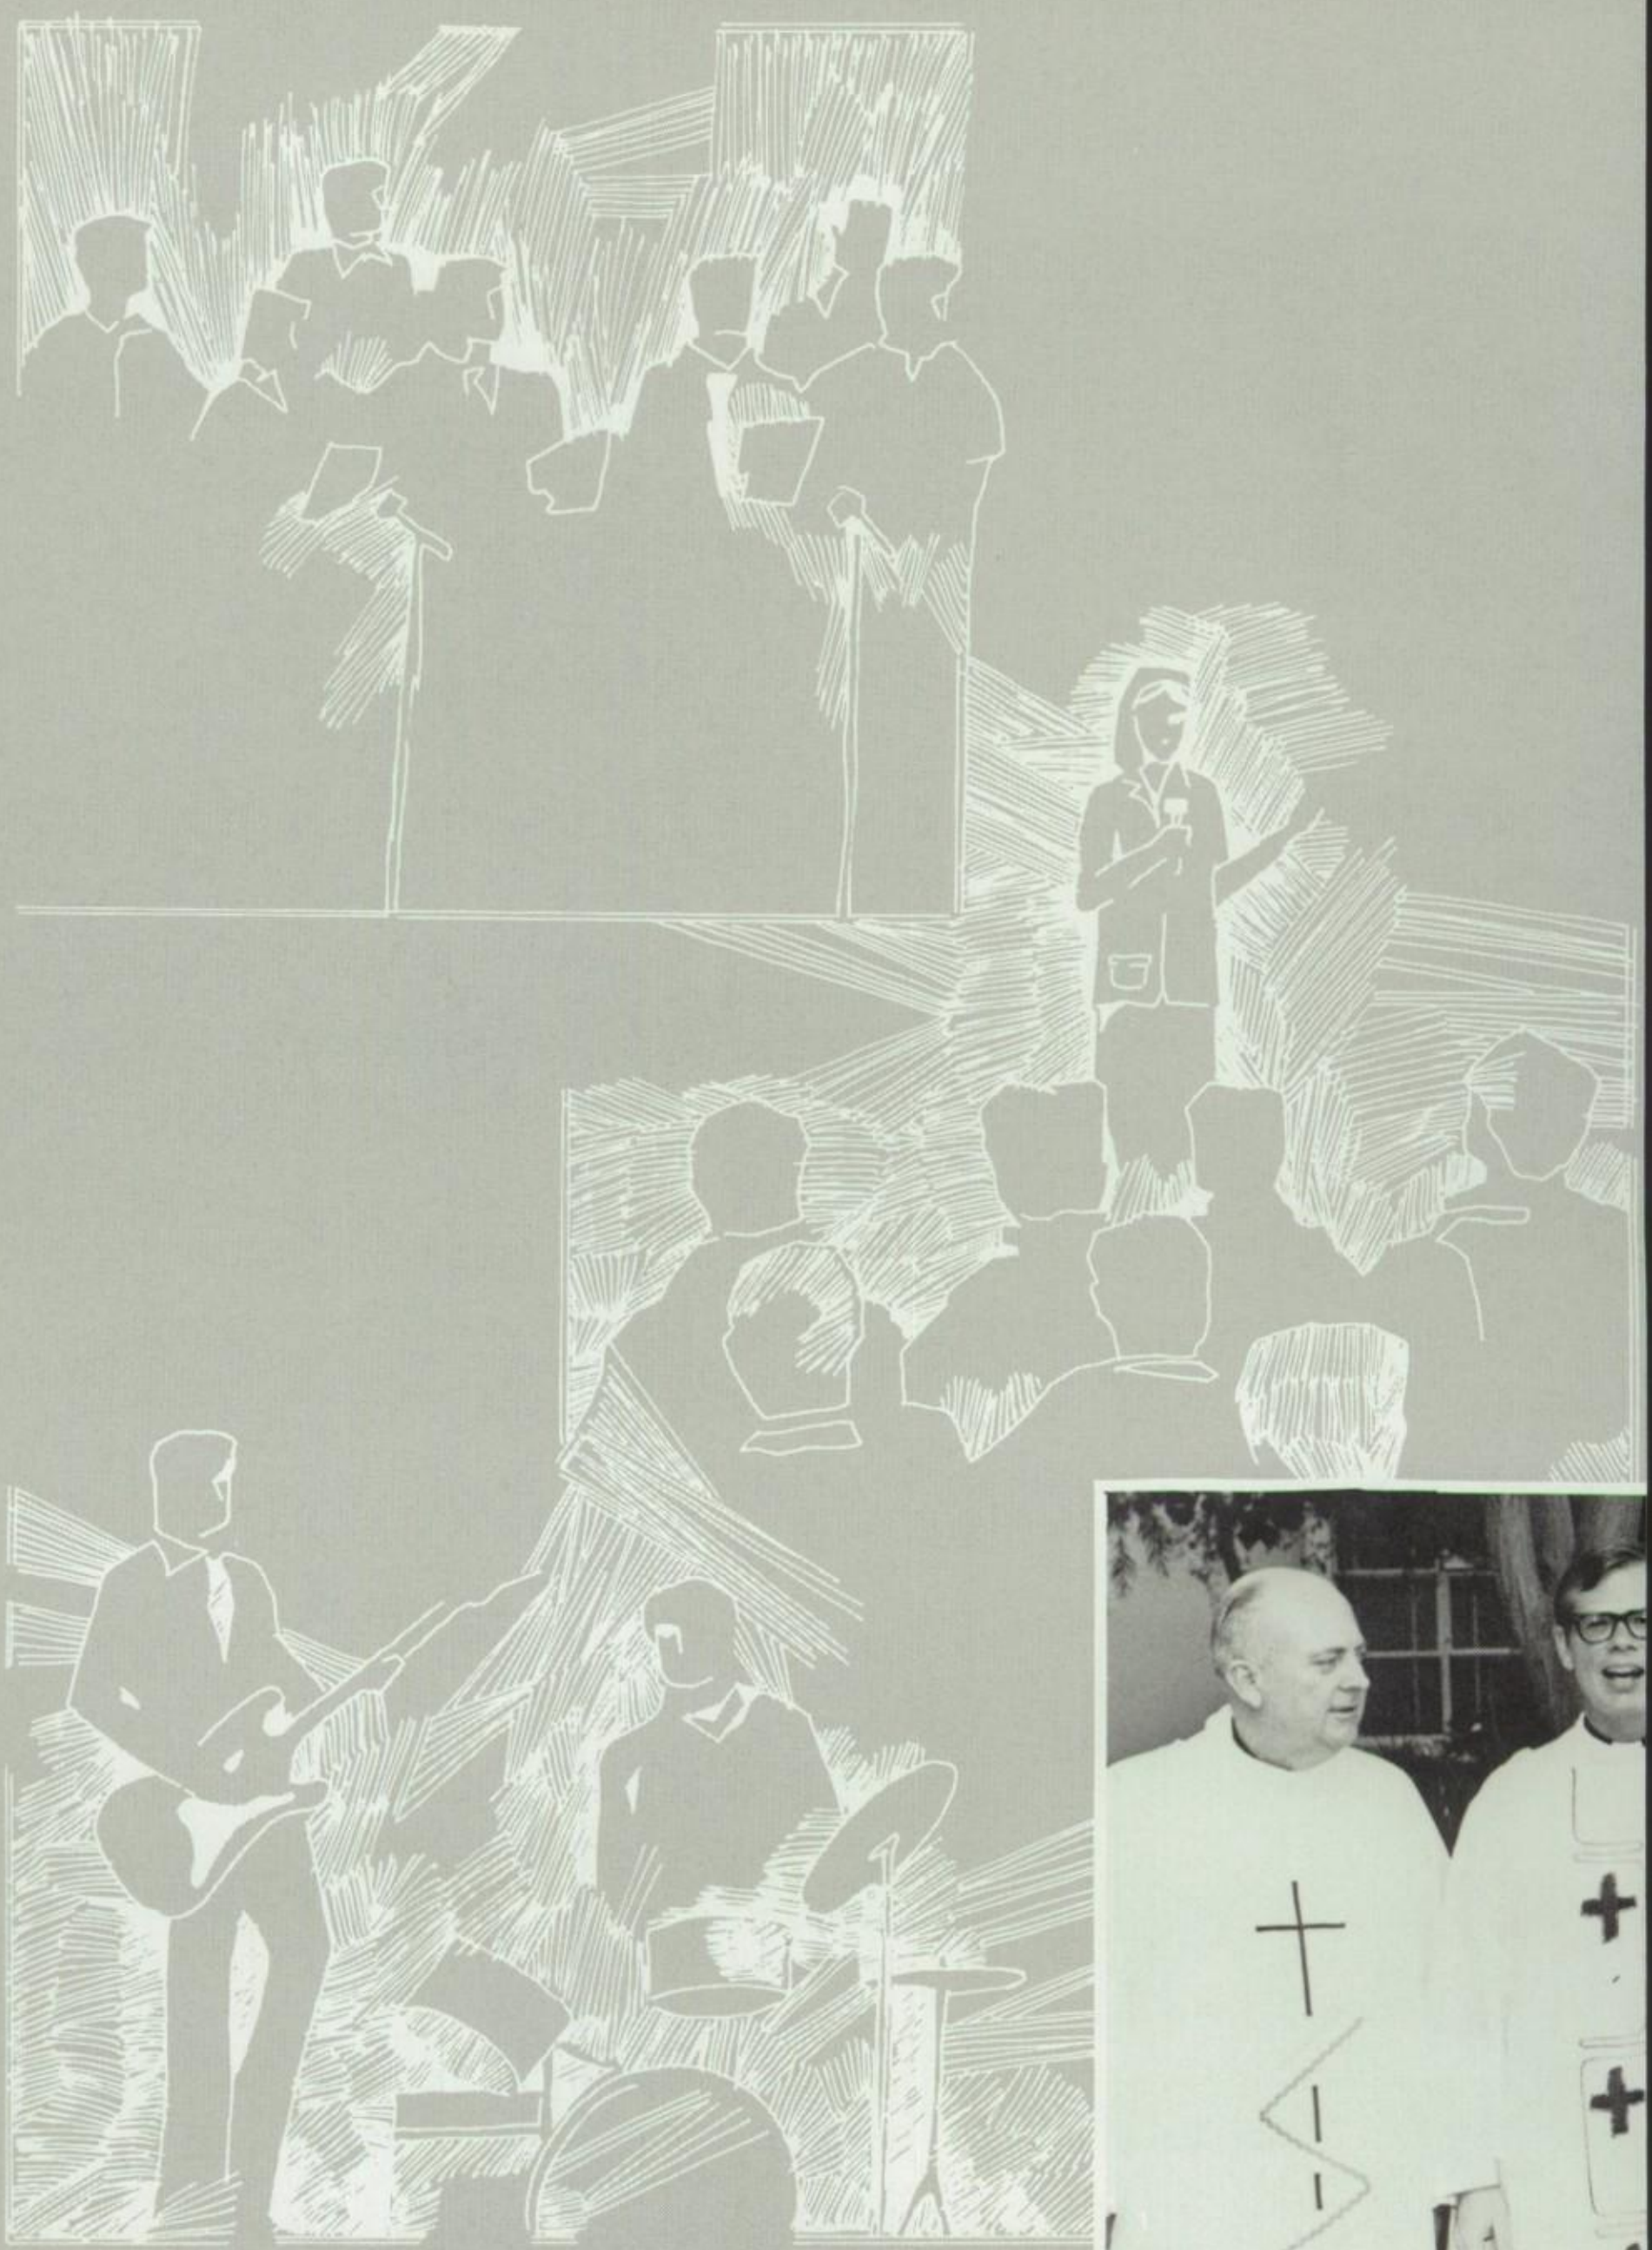
6. "But I always change it with the light on"; says Greg Bickel to fellow photographic understudies Anthony Spangler and Michael Estrada as they demonstrate how to load the camera.
7. Understudies Daryl Sequeira, Dan Calvillo, Vince Torres, Mike Estrada, John Rome, Robert Stoutenburgh, and Ernie Flores assault John Provenza, their beloved editor, with elated thanks for a terrific Prep year.

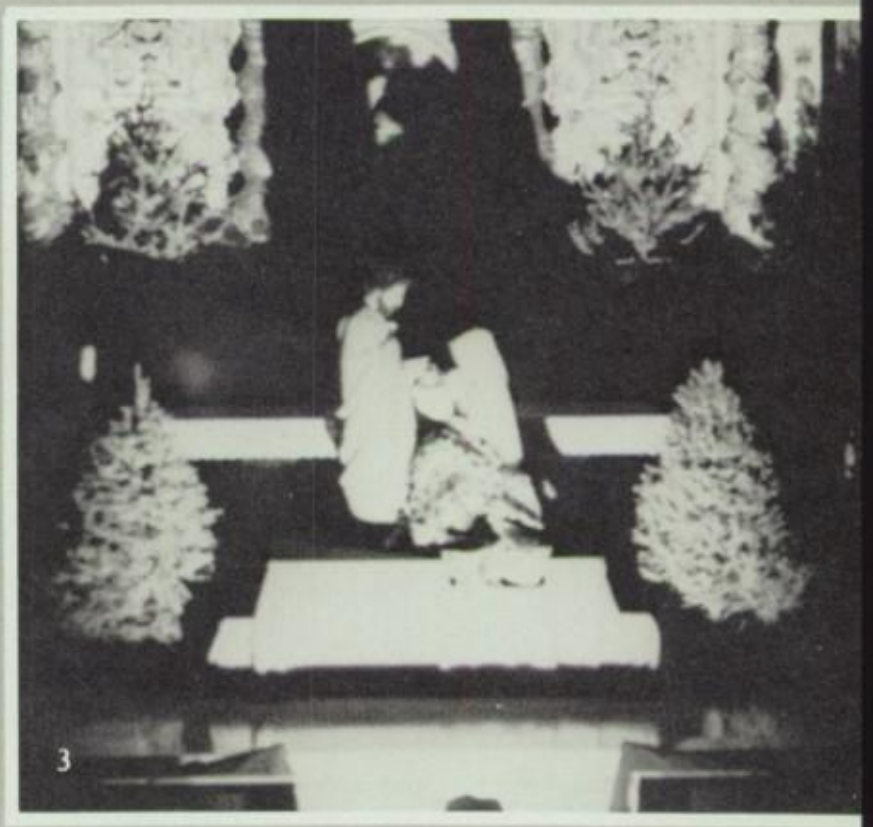
8. Our radiant Dave Zak, assistant editor, shines out as a beacon to the prep staff among the obscuring haze.
9. Cuong Phan, a man of many talents, shows off his ability in creating authentic portraits. This Latest production is called "Give Him the Axe".



ACTIVITIES

Seminarians are entitled to a time of recreation after an exhausting afternoon of studies. Many activities are scheduled into the program for the comfort and convenience of the seminarians. For example, a seminarian may relax in the refreshing waters of our swimming pool or engage himself in a game of pool in the recreation room. Whatever the activity, the seminarian surrounds himself in a time of socializing with his brother seminarians.

Sometimes special activities are coordinated by the entire student body for the enjoyment of our community. Gaudeamus, a festive occasion just before Halloween, provides an opportunity for the seminarians to display their talents before the entire student body. Mardi Gras, provides another type of entertainment like Gaudeamus. At Christmas a special presentation is assembled for the enjoyment of parents and friends. The Senior play is performed at the closing of the school year. Field trips parties, movies, etc. are other activities that, for us, are both recreational and educational.



1. Maryknoll Fathers, Fr. Tom Golden, Fr. Tom Northorp, and Fr. Ray Hill, M.M., give a Day of Recollection to the Seminarians.
2. Mrs. Santa, John Provenza, gives out Christmas gifts to the faculty.
3. Seminarians put together Christmas presentations for their parents before Christmas.

GAUDEAMUS

Gaudeamus is a night in which new students discover their hidden talents and perform to the amazement of the student body. Even new faculty members participage in an act as Mr. Squires showed off his talent. A variety of bands played their versions of some of the most popular songs today. All of this was organized and planned by Jim Henry and the Entertainment Committee.

1. Vince "Fred Astaire" Ayala shows off his ability to move with the music.
2. Ismael Tovar and the Ismaelites perform their new song, Future Shock.
3. Tim Zavala interviews Andy Peralta on the small things in life.

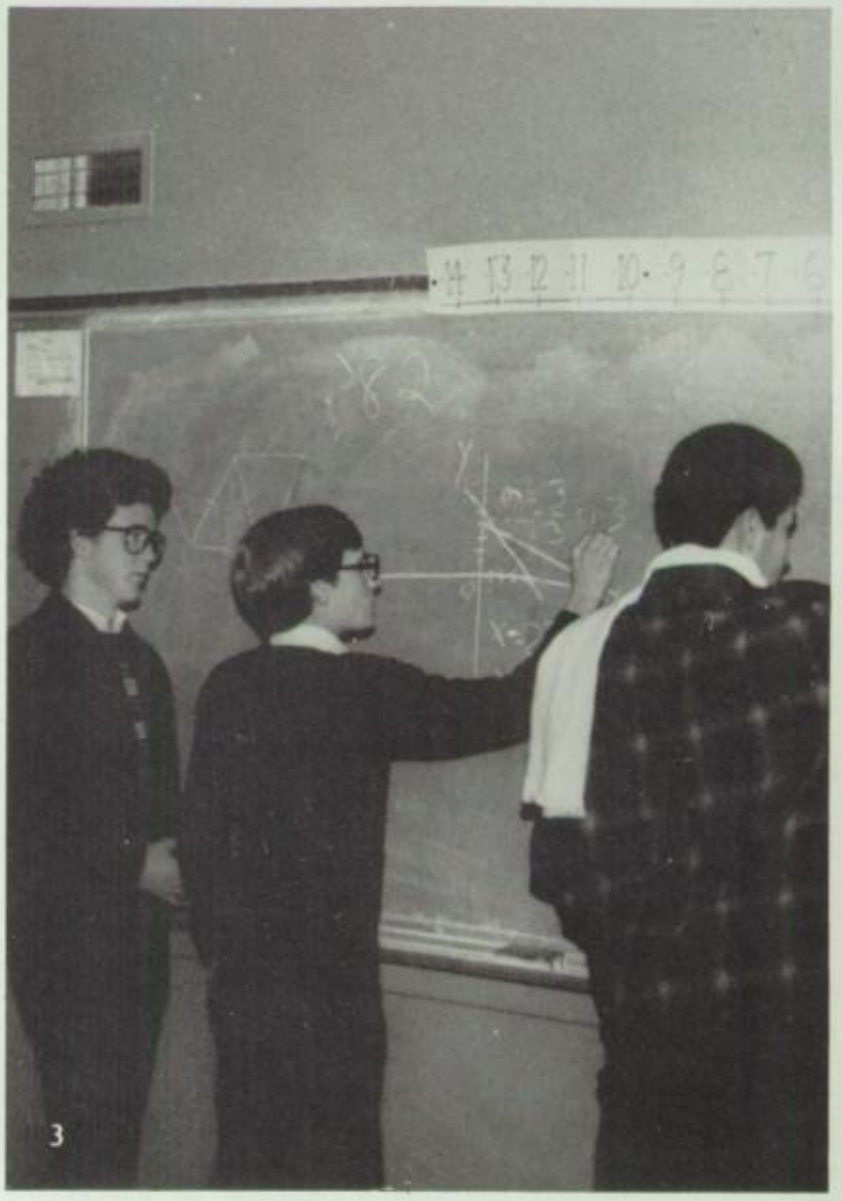
FIELD TRIPS

Twice a year the seminarians venture out of the seminary to different sites in southern California. These are meant as an extension of the education given in the classroom and they give the students a first hand look at the subjects they are studying. The students return with information that can never be found in textbooks.

1. Nick Calvano leaves the bus after a long trip to Edwards Air Force Base as Mr. Bustamante makes sure no one is left behind.
2. The Sophomores pay close attention to the tour guide as he explains the purpose of the A-10 attack jet.
3. Ernie Flores, Jim Sanchez, and Vince Torres leave the Shakespeare exhibit enriched with new and interesting knowledge.

BIG BROTHERS

The Big Brother program is an important asset in the development of the younger seminarians. The Seniors really make it a serious job to guide Freshmen so they may situate themselves into the surroundings of the seminary.



1. Freshmen Mike Gambell and David Perez Carrillo ask Big Brother Kevin Nolan if they may borrow the car for the weekend.
2. Cuong Phan is visited in his dorm by his little brothers, Steve Gable and Hipolito Munoz-Navarrete, who are interested in the book he is reading.
3. John Weitzel demonstrates the basic principles of Einstein's Law of Relativity to little brothers Martin Dante and Mario Salazar.

 This page sponsored by St. Rose of Lima Church.

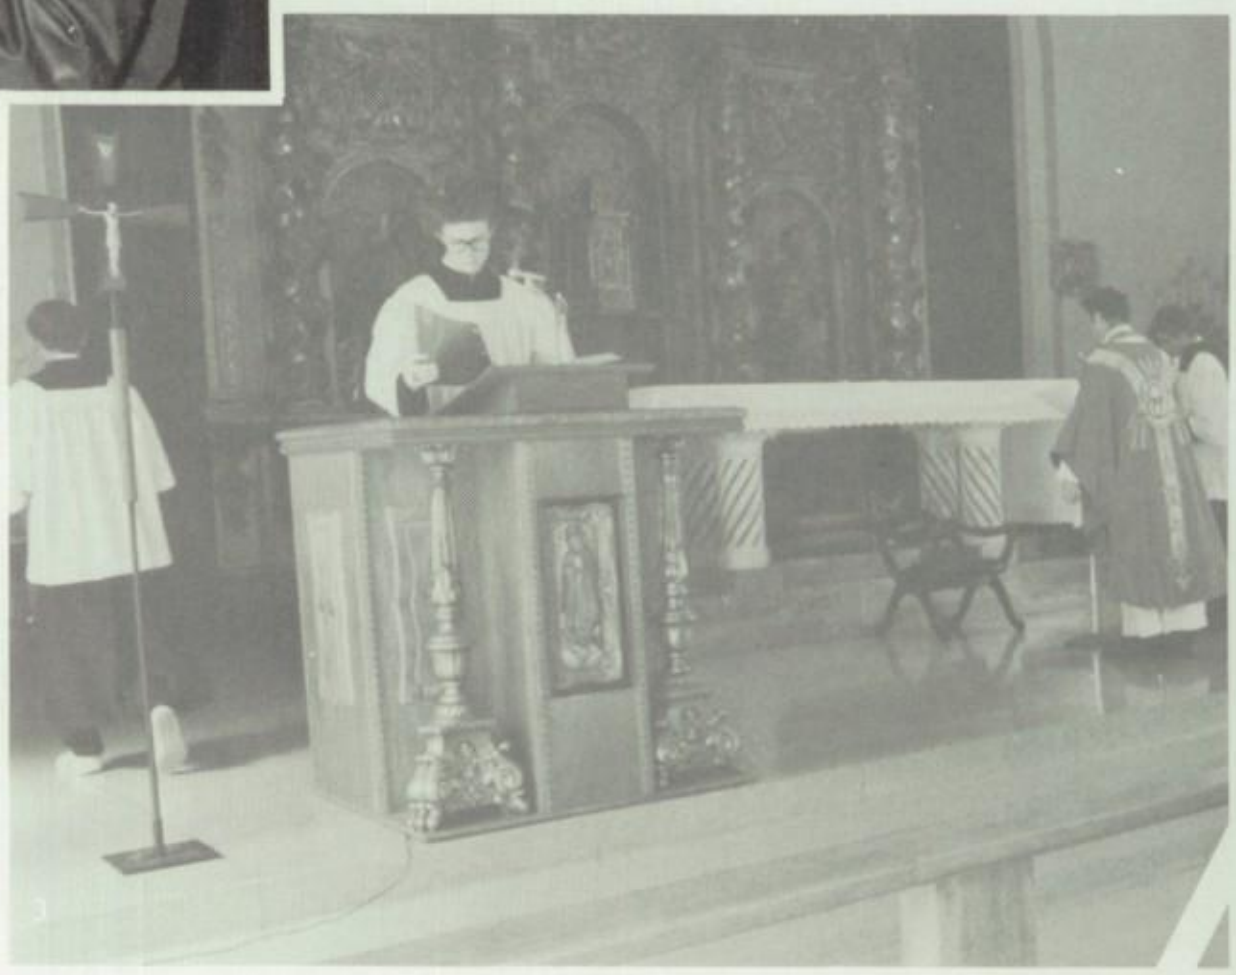
SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GRADE RETREATS

The weekend retreats introduce the seminary to seventh and eighth grade boys, and aid them in deciding about their future. They are to listen to God and discover their calling.

1. Msgr. Bauler and Ralph Gamboa say good-by to the seventh and eighth graders and their families.
2. One of the boys on the retreat tries to prove his group is the best while Marco Medina diligently prevents the others from causing chaos.
3. Cuong Phan explains to the seventh and eighth graders what a vocation is.

DAYS OF RECOLLECTION

Days of Recollection are special days picked out of each month, which give us time to get away from our studies and focus in on our spiritual growth. During the day we get to be by ourselves and to just talk to God. It is also a time to build our relationship with God and our brothers here in the seminary. Some of the themes of the days of recollection have been: Maryknollers: their missions, On honoring our Lady as Mother, and how to pray.



1. Concluding every day of recollection is the Mass.
2. During the retreat Mike Estrada finds time to sit and listen to what has to say to him.
3. Father Burnham, the spiritual director of the seminary, plans and organizes all of the days of recollection.

This page sponsored by Rev. Vincent Merfield

ANNUAL RETREAT

After all of the studying and tests of the semester exams are over we are given a full three days of Spiritual Growth. The theme for this years retreat was Growing in Wisdom, Age, and Favor. The retreat masters for this year were Msgr. Lloyd Torgerson leading the Seniors; Fr. Tim Nichols leading the Juniors and Sophomores; and leading the freshmen, Fr. Ted Llanos. With these three retreat masters, we made another giant step in our quest towards the priesthood.

1. Msgr. Lloyd Togerson and the Senior class get in the mood for the retreat.
2. John Provenza kneels before the Holy Eucharist in his Hour of Adoration.
3. Jim Roerich spends time alone to reflect on a scripture passage.
4. The retreat masters, Msgr. Lloyd Togerson, Fr. Tim Nichols, and Fr. Ted Llanos, pose for a picture after the final Mass of the Annual Retreat.

This page sponsored by Most Rev. Thaddeus Shubsda.

GUEST SPEAKERS

Throughout the year the student body is privileged to welcome and have talks by guest speakers. The faculty feels that first hand information is very important for formation now and for future ministry.

1. Fr. John Northorp gives a sermon while the other guest speakers, Fr. Tom Golden and Fr. Ray Hill, M.M., are in the background. The talks were on their experiences in South America and China.
2. Sr. Kristen Schlichle, S.S.L., visited and spoke on ministry to the handicapped and what we could do about it.
3. The Cathedral Servers, John Provenza, Marco Medina, Jim Henry, Alex Quezada and Kevin Nolan stand on the side of chapel as they prepare to leave to the Cathederal.

CATHEDRAL SERVERS

This year the Senior class has undertaken a new responsibility by serving at important archdiocesan events in St. Vibiana's Cathedral. They represent the school by wearing their uniforms while serving these Masses.

This page sponsored by Cabot and Sons Mortuary, Pasadena

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION

The Christmas celebration began with the students' gifts to the faculty, not always what they asked for either. Then at the end of the week a full scale event was put on in the chapel under the instruction of Fr. Krekelberg depicting the Christmas Narrative. After that, refreshments were served in the refectory for the visiting families while the schola provided entertainment. Even Santa Claus took time out from his busy schedule to make an appearance with his wife and treat the children with goodies.

1. Mrs. Claus (John Provenza) gives Mr. Bustamante "the ax" as a gift from the student body.
2. The children are elated as Santa (Kevin Nolan) passes out candy.
3. The Angel Gabriel (Dominic Ritzer) announces to the Virgin Mary (Maria D'Amato) that she is going to bear the Son of God in the Christmas Narrative.
4. Mary greets Elizabeth (Mrs. Rogge) in a scene of the Visitation.

APOSTOLIC WORKS

C.C.D. TEACHER TRAINING

The Seniors start their teacher training for C.C.D. the beginning of Junior year. They develop their skills futher by attending the C.C.D. Congress and then another weekend at the beginning of Senior year. For the final stage they teach in the classrooms once a week.

Every Wednesday they travel to St. Didacus Parish in Sylmar to instruct first through sixth graders in knowing and loving Christ. Besides becoming certified teachers, the Seniors put their evangelical spirit in action in this rewarding apostolic ministry.

1. Marco Medina listens to one of his students' question, as they never run out of them.
2. Today's topic is respect with Manuel Pulido shedding light on the subject.
3. Fr. Cañedo shows sign language is easy but the Juniors have other ideas.

SIGN LANGUAGE

Ministry to the handicapped is taking root here at the seminary. Fr. Ken Cañedo, of the Office of the Pastoral Ministry with the Handicapped People, brings with him sign language and a possibility of ministry to the deaf in the near future. Fr. Cañedo offers classes during the second semester for interested Juniors.

This page sponsored by Faculty and Students of St. John's College.

DETENTION CAMP

During the second semester the Seniors frequently visit the juvenile detention center in Sylmar. They spend time with them and offer them hope for the future. Sometimes they have a Mass with the youths, but most of the time they just talk and have group discussions with a bit of catechism. The Seniors hope that by their presence they will help a fellow human being in need.

CONVALESCENT HOME

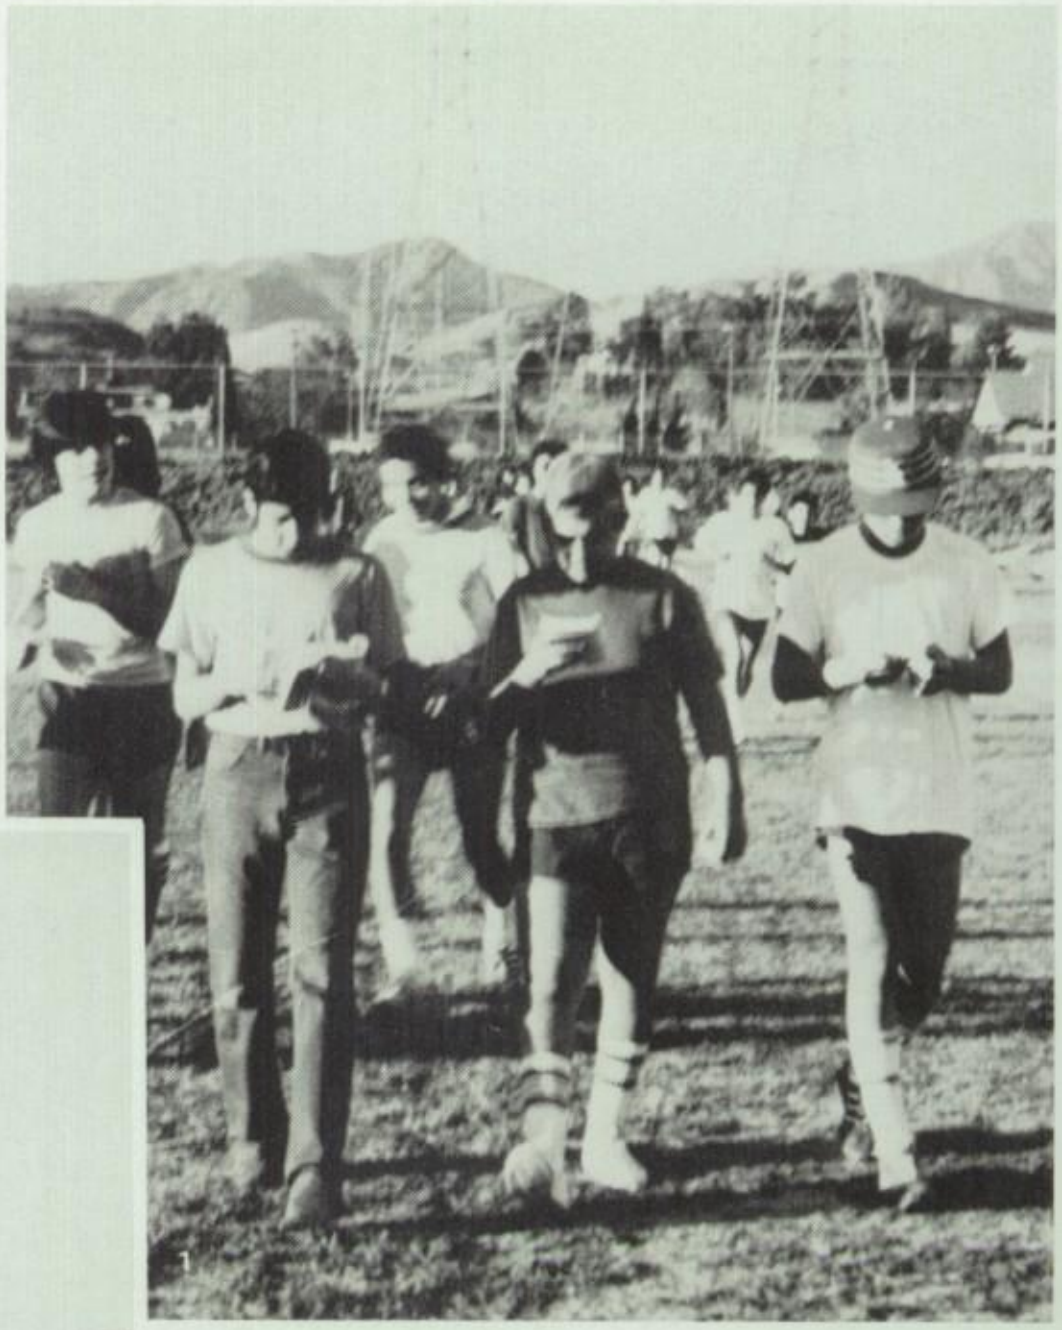
The sophomore's special activity as a class is visiting the nearby convalescent home. The elderly receive a respite from all too common loneliness by the willing sophomores who share memories and pleasant talk with the patients.

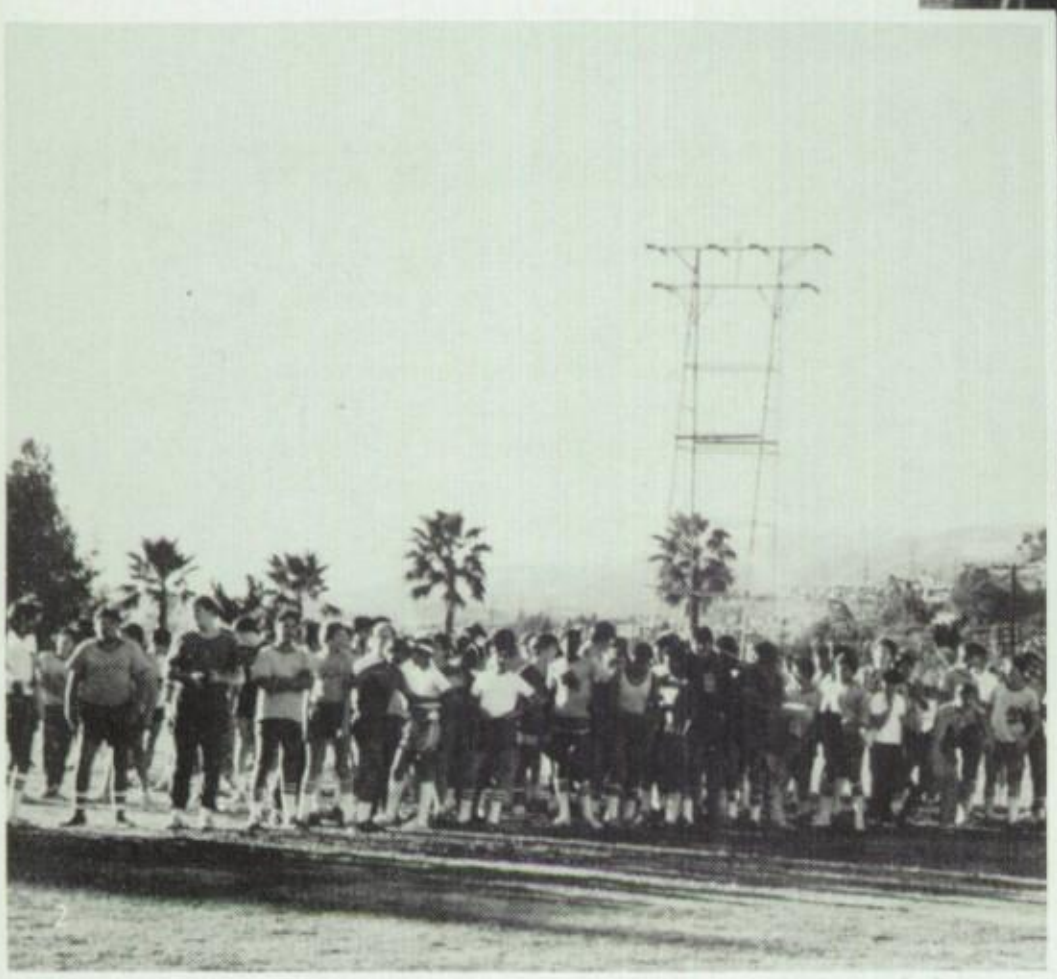
1. Members of the senior class pause for a picture with Sister Rosemary outside the juvenile detention facility in Sylmar.
2. Tony Fernandez, Keith Gustafson, and Ralph Gamboa are intent listeners to an elderly patient in their turn at visiting a convalescent home.
3. A confined patient talks easily with Tim Zavala getting both of them to smile.

This page in memory of Daniel and Josephine Campbell.

JOG-A-THON

An annual fund-raising event here at the seminary is the Jog-a-thon. Along with raising money for the student body fund the Jog-a-thon provides a chance for the whole student body and the faculty to prove their athletic ability and school spirit.





1. Dan Calvillo, Mike Estrada and Adolfo Chacon find reading far easier than running.
2. A line of tense seminarians are present at the start of the Third Annual Jog-a-thon, in which they will run devotedly for the school.
3. The gun has sounded, and the students are off in a blurr of bellies and bodies for one hour of solid running.

SENIOR ALL-STAR GAME

Despite destroying many years of a winning tradition, the Seniors displayed good spirit in this year's all-star game. While the opposition only allowed one touchdown and scored forty-two points themselves, the Seniors battled to the end and departed from the game with even more spirit than they came in with.

1. Marco Medina and Dan Kenny lead the Senior class into the 1982 All-Star game.
2. Jim Henry quickly gets the ball off by sending it across the field.
3. During half-time the Seniors try to smooth out their rough points after the first half of playing.
4. The class of '82 show their enthusiasm along with their class unity.

All things journey: sun and moon,
Morning, noon, and afternoon,
Night and all her stars;
'Twixt the east and western bars
Round they journey,
Come and go!
We go with them!

George Eliot

Dear Friends,

We hope you have enjoyed your magical journey down memory lane by reminiscing through the Prep '82. This yearbook should be looked upon as a completion of events and a treasure chest of memories. Throughout the course of the 1981-1982 school year assorted memories have lingered in the hearts of all the seminarians. Our job is to gather these memories and sort them into one collection of momentos. We hope you cherish this wonderful book and look through it both now and in the years to come.

This book could never have been completed without a group of talented geniuses known to us as the Prep staff. Without their effort and support there would be a book with blank sheets of paper.

And our advisor, Mr. Bustamante? Well he said something about mentioning his name in this letter so that's all we decided to do. Just kidding!

Anyway, it was an outstanding school year, one that should never be forgotten. We hope this book preserves memories established throughout this year. Without your support this year would not have been the great year it has proved to be. Thank you all and may God bless you.

Sincerely the Co-Editors,

Hans Salido

John J Provenza

SPECIAL THANKS

To the ladies in the office, Mrs. Apolito, Mrs. Dunlap, and Mrs. Murry who constantly aided us when we most needed it.

To our yearbook representative, Paul Collins, for assisting us with new ideas.

To George Garcia of The Portrait Gallery who took the school and Senior Portraits plus many other pictures used in this book.

To Father Ziemann who patiently guided us through out deadlines and Father Krekelberg who even assisted us in taking pictures.

And especially to Mr. Bustamante and the Prep Staff members who with their work made this book possible.

Gennarino D'Amato

Nov. 15, 1963 - Nov. 22, 1981

Lord, make me an instrument of Thy peace;
Where there is hatred, let me sow
love;
Where there is injury, pardon;
Where there is doubt, faith;
Where there is despair, hope;
Where there is darkness, light;
And where there is sadness, joy.

Divine Master,
Grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console;
To be understood as to understand;
To be loved as to love;
For it is in giving that we receive;
It is in pardoning that we are pardoned;
And it is in dying that we are born to eternal life.
